Oppn walk out seeking discussion; Rajnath says China tried to change status quo

Ruckus in Parl over LAC clash

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

THE clash between Indian and Chinese troops in Tawang sector rocked Parliament on Tuesday with Opposition parties staging a walkout after the government refused a discussion on the issue after Defence Minister Rajnath Singh briefed the House on the matter.

The Opposition walked out of the Lok Sabha after Congress leader Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury demanded a discussion after Singh's statement at 12 pm. A number of parties including the Congress, the AAP, RJD, TMC, among others, also gave adjournment notices to discuss the border situation.

The Rajya Sabha also witnessed noisy scenes after deputy chairman Harivansh Narayan Singh denied permission for discussion, citing precedents that queries on sensitive issues cannot be permitted.

Subsequently, the Congress led the Opposition to stage a walkout. Leader of Opposition in the Rajya Sabha Mallikarjun Kharge said it was meaningless to sit inside the House if they are not given clarifications.

The issue took a political turn outside Parliament as leaders from both the government and Opposition trading charges at each other. Training his guns at the Centre, Kharge said it was not transparent on the Chinese escalation. "We were told by the Leader of the House and Deputy Rajya Sabha Chairman that we would be given a chance for clarification. But they did not give it and were not ready to listen to us. Government should be honest and transparent about Chinese escalation," he said.

PLA's aggression thwarted: Govt

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

A day after the Indian Army revealed that Indian and Chinese troops recently clashed near the Line of Actual Control, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh informed Parliament on Tuesday that the People's Liberation Army unilaterally tried to change the status quo, which was thwarted by Indian soldiers.

"On December 9, PLA troops tried to transgress the LAC in the Yangtse area of Tawang Sector (in Arunachal Pradesh) and unilaterally change the status quo. The Chinese attempt was contested by our troops in a firm and resolute manner," Singh said, adding that the ensuing face-off led to a physical scuffle. However, "Indian Army bravely prevented the PLA from transgressing into our territory and compelled them to return to their posts," he said in Parliament.

The scuffle led to injuries to a few personnel on both sides. Singh clarified that there were no fatalities or serious injuries on the Indian side.

The local Commanders of both sides met on December 11 and discussed the matter. The issue has also been raised at diplomatic level.

Meanwhile, responding to the clashes, Chinese Foreign Ministry on Tuesday said the situation along the border with India was "generally stable". Later, spokesman of the Western Theatre Command of the PLA issued a statement, claiming that the clash took place when its troops on regular patrol on the Chinese side of the LAC were blocked by Indian soldiers.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

BENGALURU South MP Tejasvi Surya on Tuesday appealed to Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman to officially declare Bengaluru as a metropolitan city to increase the House Rental Allowance (HRA) deduction permitted to calculate the Income Tax for residents of Bengaluru to 50% of the salary, like in other Metropolitan cities.

Speaking during the Zero Hour Discussion in Parliament, the MP said under existing rules only Delhi, Mumbai, Kolkata and Chennai are considered as metropolitan cities, residents of which can claim up to 50% HRA deduction while those of other cities in India, including Bengaluru, can claim only 40% deduction of the salary as HRA.

GO issued on holding annual examination for Classes 5, 8

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Department of Public Instruction has issued an order stating that annual exams should be conducted for students of Classes 5 and 8 from the ongoing academic year in all schools across Karnataka. The order stated that the decision is being taken as it was getting difficult to judge the overall performance of the students under the ongoing system of Continuous Comprehensive Evaluation (CCE) for students studying in classes 1 to 9.

Education Minister B C Nagesh said the exams for students of class 5 and class 8 have been announced to improve the children's learning capacity. It has been observed that children are scared while writing the SSLC exams as they lack confidence and are not competent. Under the new system, children will write exams like those who appear for exams under CBSE or ICSE syllabi. The minister said details were being finalised on who should evaluate the question papers and whether it should be at school, taluk or state level.

A senior official from the Education Department, seeking anonymity, said, the process of exams is starting for students of Grades 5 and 8 in the ongoing academic year. But the syllabi for evaluation for exams will be from November to February and will be of 50 marks. P4

No green or saffron: K'buragi railway stn repaints wall white

RAMAKRISHNA BADSESHI @Kalaburagi

UNDER pressure from saffron outfits over painting the entrance wall of Kalaburagi Railway Station green, the railway authorities decided to play it safe by repainting the wall white on Tuesday.

Activists of the Kalaburagi district unit of Hindu Jagruti Sene held a demonstration in front of the railway station on Tuesday threatening that they wall paint the wall saffron, if the green colour was not removed. Also, the working president of Sri Rama Sene, Sri Siddalinga Swamiji of Karuneshwara Matha, gave a similar ultimatum to the authorities.

To avoid the issue from snowballing into a major controversy, the railway authorities decided to take the middle path and started repainting the entrance wall of the railway station white from Tuesday onwards.

Panathur crematorium furnaces break down, families turned away

Residents say BBMP did not repair a coil that stopped functioning during the pandemic

MOHAMMED YACOOB
@ Bengaluru

RESIDENTS of Mahadevapura, KR Puram and surroundings are forced to shuttle to either Kudlu in Bommanahalli or Jeevanahalli Kalpalli in East Bengaluru to cremate their loved ones, as both furnaces at the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) crematorium at Panathur need repairs.

Residents and activists say the BBMP and local leaders did not take up repairs after one of the furnaces stopped functioning during the second wave of Covid, after the electric coil broke down. Now, due to heavy dependency, the coil of the second furnace too broke into pieces eight days ago.

According to Babu Gowda, Block Congress president, Marathahalli, the crematorium issue was first reported during the Covid second wave. "One furnace stopped working. Villagers of Varthur, Bellandur, Panathur and surroundings kept appealing for it to be fixed, but nothing happened. Last week, the other furnace also stopped working. Families which are unaware of the issue, bring the bodies of their loved ones and are then forced to go to other crematoriums," said Gowda.

Confirming this, Kanakaraj, a worker at the crematorium here, said that both furnaces had electric coil breakage issues, and the doors were also damaged. "The crematorium usually gets two to five bodies, and families were told to take the bodies to crematoriums in Bommanahalli and East Zone," said Kanakaraj.

Meanwhile, superintendent of the electrical engineering department said the Palike has 12 crematoria. A glitch was found at Panathur in Mahadevapura, Mediagrahara in Yelahanka and Hebbal, and problems are being fixed at the earliest.

"The Hebbal crematorium had a problem with the chimney, and it was fixed. Now there is a problem at Mediagrahara and Panathur. The one at Panathur will start functioning soon after the fixed coil generates heat of 550 degree Celsius. The tender process for Mediagrahara is complete, and a new coil at the 30-metre chimney will be fixed at the earliest," said Anand, superintendent engineer, BBMP electrical department.

BBMP set to transfer revenue officers, hints at getting ready for polls

MOHAMMED YACOOB
@ Bengaluru

THE Revenue Department of the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) is said to have learnt that many officials, like assistant revenue officers (ARO), revenue officers (RO), revenue inspectors (RI), and tax inspectors (TI), are affiliated to political parties. Now, the department is coming up with a list to transfer officials at all wards across eight zones of the Palike.

The exercise is said to be an indication of the Palike getting ready for the BBMP Council and Assembly elections.

Special Commissioner, Revenue Department, RL Deepak, told The New Indian Express that nearly 800 officials are working in the Palike Revenue Department as AROs, ROs, RIs and TIs. Some of them may be working at a ward in a particular zone for years and they will be transferred to different zones during the election.

"The changes are done following directions from the Election Commission. This is to ensure transparency," he said.

A BBMP source said that the Palike Administration Department will take a decision and issue orders for transfers soon.

"The development comes following the slur on the BBMP after its revenue officers from Shivajinagar, Chickpet and Mahadevpura were suspended and later got arrested for being hand in glove with the tainted NGO Chilume, which is accused of tampering with the BBMP voters data. Revenue officials had issued Booth Level Officer cards to the NGO which is against the law. To avoid further controversy, this change is being considered at the earliest," said the source.

Palike chief: Waste collection should be more organised

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE issue of garbage clearance can be solved by implementing a decentralised system of solid waste disposal at the local level under the jurisdiction of Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP). Taking part in a felicitation function for the public under 'Clean Survey-2023 Program' organised by BBMP's Solid Waste Management (SWM), Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath urged all citizens of the city to keep Bengaluru clean by sorting the garbage properly and giving it to the garbage vehicles of the Palike on a daily basis. He also called upon citizens not to burn the garbage.

Girinath said that more than 16,000 civic workers engage in cleaning work on a daily basis, besides mechanical sweepers who take up the work. "Garbage collection from house to house has to be done in a more organised manner for which the cooperation of all citizens is essential. Black spots are created in many places in the city due to garbage being dumped on the street side at night. Only when preventive measures are taken, it will be possible to make Bengaluru a clean city," the BBMP chief added.

The commissioner also pointed out that the Palike has failed to make a mark under Swachh Sarvekshan Abhiyan and said that BBMP officials should make efforts to bring awareness among the public regarding solid waste management.

About 30 individuals were felicitated by the BBMP under five different categories which include Clean Technology, Innovations and Best Practice.

NOW, GIVE A NAME TO YOUR FAVOURITE FOOD STREET

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

RENOVATION work on the iconic VV Puram Food Street began soon after the ground-breaking ceremony on Tuesday morning. Following the rituals, Chickpet MLA Uday Garudachar asked the public to suggest a name for the food street, which is planned to become a model road and identity of Bengaluru in terms of food and culture.

Speaking to reporters, the MLA said he has given standing instructions to the BBMP and the contractor that the project should be completed by the end of February. "Two years ago, I had a meeting with my supporters from this ward and decided to do some development work related to VV Puram Food Street. We took the matter to the BBMP. The government has also given a grant, and under the MLA LAD funds, it has allocated Rs 6 crore for the makeover."

BBMP Finance Commissioner Jayaram Raipura said that once completed, this project will become a role model for all other food streets in the city. When asked about whether the BBMP will fix rates of food items sold here once the development is completed, the commissioner stated that it is left to the traders.

Prof Doreswamy wants 'Vidyanjali' to be made national programme

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE state government's adviser for education reforms Prof MR Doreswamy appealed to Prime Minister Narendra Modi that the 'Vidyanjali' project, under which universities are obliged to participate in the academic development of government schools in their jurisdiction, should be made a national programme.

Speaking at the valedictory of the 'Vijnana Mela' (Science Fair) organised for 2,400 students from government schools of Bangalore South at the PES University Campus, Prof Doreswamy said the 'Vidyanjali' project could be envisaged as a productive package for the development of government schools comprising academic empowerment by all universities, involvement of medical institutions for healthcare assistance and involvement of all universities to conduct science fairs. "The government should initiate steps in this direction and all universities to lend a helping hand to the government in the best interests of government school students," he added. Further, he said that one of his long-cherished dreams to offer a full range of school educational services to government school students is fulfilled through 'Vijnana Mela'.

Exams won't be difficult: Official

THE first 20 marks will be for multiple choice questions, another 20 marks for SA and 10 marks for oral exams. "So far, students were writing only midterm and annual exams which were being assessed by the school. But now it will be evaluated by invigilators from other centres. For example, a teacher from Yeshwanthpur will be evaluating the answer scripts of a student from Malleswaram. The idea is taken from Kalika Chetharike and the NEP assessment method. The exams for students of grade 5 and 8 will be like the SSLC board exams but not so difficult. No student will fail," the official added.

Cormorant trapped in net dies

Residents of Puttenahalli were dejected on Tuesday after the death of a Great Cormorant, the species usually seen at Puttenahalli lake. The incident came to light after a blog posted by a resident, K Srinivas, who often photographs flora and fauna around the lake. He shared images of the bird with its wing stuck in a fishing net, and unable to fly. The photographer noticed the net only while examining the photos, and the bird could have been immobile for quite a while before the photographer noticed its predicament. Residents hoped the injured bird would reach land where they could capture it and tend to it. They finally caught the bird with a lot of difficulty and called the Avian and Reptile Rehabilitation Centre, but by the time the rescue team reached, the bird had died. The bird may have died of hunger and exhaustion because of its immobility. Residents mentioned that this is not the first incident, and there have been several instances of birds getting caught in nets or strings.

HOLIDAY SEASON

Demand for home stays, service apts sees surge

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AFTER a two-year hiatus, the hospitality sector in the city is witnessing a boom, amidst year-end festivities.

According to the latest Justdial Consumer Insights, the demand for home stays and service apartments is the highest in Bengaluru city, compared to the rest of the country. Home stays and 3-star hotels have contributed to almost 60 per cent of the searches for hotels for the Christmas holidays, the survey report showed.

The other places where demand was high were Mumbai and Delhi. The survey, also showed popular tourist destinations such as Kodagu, Ernakulam, Wayanad, and Goa among the others that have seen an increase in demand in home stays and star hotels, apart from Tier-1 cities of Mumbai and Delhi. Demand for service apartments and 4-star hotels made up the top-five categories of hotels in demand during this holiday season.

Demand for hotels has gone up by 17 per cent, which is on par with pre-Covid levels, while demand for home stays saw a meteoric 135 per cent jump, and that for 3-star hotels rose by 18 per cent, while that for others remained stable.

Apart from searches for hotels, searches for bars, fast food, food delivery, and dhabas made up the top-five most searched services. Hotels dominated with 27 per cent of the overall searches, followed by bars at 23 per cent, Fast food at 18 per cent, food delivery at 17 per cent, and dhabas at 14 per cent. Commenting on the trends, Prasun Kumar, CMO, Justdial, said: "It is encouraging to see that the hospitality and F&B industries are witnessing a surge in demand as we hit the phase for year-end festivities."

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

14TH December: Some people love Wednesdays, others hate them. Personally I'm quite fond of them, perhaps because their ancient planetary ruler is Mercury, the planet of wit and wisdom. There was a time when today was considered the perfect moment to make lasting commitments. So, now could be the time to sign on the dotted line!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Something strange is happening at home. Just what this is completely unclear, but it seems likely that it's all to do with the past. A little detective work might therefore be in order. Are there any mistakes you've made which you haven't acknowledged? If not, that's fine but, if you have, do something about it now.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Venus, the planet which heralds emotional changes, is in many respects very well positioned indeed, so try to make things easier for yourself as well as others by being more flexible over long-term arrangements, especially at home. Try to understand a partner's point of view, even if you do disagree with it.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Other people may be stealing your ideas. You may find this terribly irritating, but if you stop and think for a moment, you'll remember that imitation is indeed the sincerest form of flattery. You can actually change your attitudes completely - and offer a rival your help!

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Anyone who believes that you are a placid and unambitious individual must be living on another planet, or just confused by the fact that, at the moment, many of your concerns are private and personal. Still, it's your right to be a mystery, if that's what you want.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
You may feel that you have been hoodwinked and manipulated, but you must remember that people who have reneged on promises or commitments may not have done so intentionally. They might have had little choice over the matter, and you can give them plenty of time to come round.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
It has been said that your perfectionism is at once your biggest strength and your greatest weakness. The problem for you now is that it will mean that while you succeed by other people's standards, you fail according to your own. Sometimes you're much too harsh on yourself!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Mars's magnificent role in your solar chart indicates that you are in perpetual danger of facing hostility from people who blame you for their own shortcomings. Such resentment may be brushed aside with the contempt it deserves, but you should also find time to smooth a loved one's ruffled feathers.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Serious problems only arise if you refuse to alter your stand on career or professional matters. If you accept whatever new responsibilities are pushed in your direction, you will gain in both confidence and experience. It will be a pleasant feeling when other people look up to you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You should be aware of just how fortunate you have been recently, for although Pluto, which signifies emotional upset, is a difficult planet, it is often much kinder to you than to anyone else. Now you can look forward to helpful developments at home.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Although there is nothing you will receive with so much reluctance as advice, it should pay you to listen carefully. There may be many hidden meanings, and it could take someone with your sensitivity to pick them all up. If you do, then the results will definitely be to your advantage.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You may allow events to take their own course over the next few days, and wait for certain friends to make up their minds. This will happen very soon, but you can't say exactly when. All you can do is keep trying to make partners see sense. Perhaps you should also come off the fence.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Above all else, you like people to be nice to you. However, you have a remarkable talent for ignoring obvious signals of attraction from other people. You should be more alert to such emotional undercurrents in future, otherwise you'll miss out on interesting possibilities - and that's an understatement.

No roll? Trio sets hotel workers' room ablaze

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A fight that started over food at a hotel led to the customers setting fire to the house where the staffers stayed. The incident happened in Hanumanthanagar on Sunday night and police have arrested two persons, including a minor boy, while another is absconding.

Police have arrested Devaraju, a resident of NR Colony and a mason, and initiated legal action against a 15-year-old boy in conflict with the law.

Devaraju, his friend Ganesh and the boy had gone to Kumar Hotel in Ashoknagar 3rd Cross around 11 pm on Sunday night and asked for an egg and chicken roll. However, the staff said all items were over and they were closing the hotel, but Devaraju insisted that they serve anything as they were hungry. This led to an altercation and the hotel staff Bablu and others allegedly attacked the trio with iron rod and knives and shooed them away.

"A few hours later, around 3.30 am, the miscreants went to the house where the hotel staff slept located just three buildings away from the hotel, and set fire to the main door and window after pouring petrol and escaped. As the staff started screaming, their neighbours doused the fire," the police said.

Based on the complaint filed by the hotel owner, Nitish Kumar, Devaraj and the minor boy were traced and arrested while Ganesh is absconding. Devaraj has also filed a complaint accusing the hotel staff of assaulting them and the police are looking into it.

Cane farmers arrested before black flag protest at G20 venue

Members of state Sugarcane Growers forum stopped by police near the Hebbal flyover

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

SUGARCANE farmers, protesting for the last 22 days demanding better prices for their crop, were arrested when they were on their way to hold a black flag demonstration at the G20 meeting venue in Devanahalli on Tuesday.

The first G20 Finance and Central Bank Deputies (FCBD) meeting, which is being hosted by the Union Finance Ministry and the Reserve Bank of India, started on Tuesday in Bengaluru. Delegates from G20 countries are meeting here for three days from Tuesday.

A few members of the Karnataka Sugarcane Growers Association, along with their president Kurubur Shanthakumar, were heading towards Devanahalli, when they were stopped by the police at the Hebbal flyover. These farmers had earlier warned the state government that they would hold the protest outside the G20 venue.

Shanthakumar, in a media release, said the state government should resolve farmers' woes by changing the agri-loan policy, offering interest-free loans and providing interest-free loans for the education of farmers' children.

"We have been protesting over the last few days. As we wanted to grab some eyeballs and the spotlight on our problems, we were heading towards the G20 venue. The police did not give a valid reason before arresting us. They took us in three batches to the K S R P grounds," he stated. A few farmers, who were protesting peacefully at the Freedom Park, too were arrested, he added.

Wading into the issue, opposition Congress condemned the act of the government and police. It tweeted, "It was assault on Dalits yesterday and today it is one farmers. Farmers who were demanding to give their pending amount were arrested shows government is anti-farmers (sic)." It also said Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai's government will come to an end soon.

Road to be fixed, forest walk renewed at Nandi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

IN a bid to draw tourists in large numbers to the city's prime hill station destination, and as a part of the G20 - Finance Track meetings being held in Devanahalli, the state tourism department is working on giving Nandi Hills a facelift.

Under this move, the fort walls of Nandi Hills will be illuminated at night, the forest walk will be renewed and the roads around the hillock are also being improved.

Additional Chief Secretary, Tourism Department, Kapil Mohan said Nandi Hills is being spruced up for G20, but the move will also benefit tourists. On the question of tourists being allowed on Nandi Hills during the night, even without having bookings, Mohan said it will not be opened due to safety reasons.

At Shah meet, Bommai to present state stand

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Mysuru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Tuesday said that during the meeting with Union Home Minister Amit Shah and his Maharashtra counterpart Eknath Shinde, he would make his stand clear on the Karnataka-Maharashtra border dispute.

He told media persons that he will clarify his government's stand before the Union home secretary by elaborating on the States Reorganisation Act and other process.

"I will share the developments that have taken place after the States Reorganisation Act, and the case before the Supreme Court. I will also elaborate on the provisions of the Constitution and petition about the dispute," he said.

Responding to a question, Bommai took a jibe at Congress leaders and said that the Grand Old Party must be blamed for failing to protect the interest of the state in the Mahadayi water dispute. "The then Congress president Sonia Gandhi during a pre-election meeting in Goa had stated she would not allow a single drop of Mahadayi river water to be diverted. However, the party leaders are now talking about the issue for political mileage," he said.

He also blamed Congress for the confusion over the decision to hike SC/ST reservation in Karnataka. "Fearing that they would lose SC/ST votes, Congress raked up the issue by raising a question in the Rajya Sabha to alter the reservation scheme," he said.

Although the meeting is about the border dispute, Bommai said that he will be prepared to discuss cabinet expansion, if the scope arises.

Meanwhile, the CM also said he had asked the Agriculture Department officials to conduct a survey of crop damage in Karnataka due to Cyclone Mandous.

Sharad Pawar's nephew, MES netas meet at night in B'gavi

Belagavi: NCP MLA from Maharashtra Rohit Pawar visited the district on Monday night, and met leaders of MES. He assured them he will voice the demands of the Marathi-speaking population in Belagavi in the Maharashtra Assembly. Rohit, nephew of NCP chief Sharad Pawar, came to Belagavi without any prior intimation to the police, and visited Hutatma Smarak in Hindalaga, Maharashtra school in Yellur, and the residence of MES leader leader Deepak Dalavi to check on his health, and discussed developments over the border row with MES leaders. However, he has been criticised for secretly visiting Belagavi when tension is prevailing. At Hutatma Smarak, Pawar said he has been connected with Belagavi for a long time. "I have not come to Belagavi using the main road. I will surely start a discussion in the Maharashtra Assembly to solve the problems of Marathi-speakers in Belagavi," he said. President of Kannada Organisations Action Committee Ashok Chandaragi called him a "coward" for allegedly secretly visiting Belagavi.

REDDY FLOATING A NEW PARTY? BROTHER SAYS NO

RAGHOTTAM KOPPAR AND KIRAN BALANNANAVAR @ Koppal/Ballari

THERE is a buzz in Kalyana Karnataka that former minister Gali Janardhana Reddy will launch his own party -- Kalyana Rajya Pragati Paksha (KRPP) – ahead of the state Assembly elections.

Sources close to Reddy said he is in New Delhi now to register the party and symbol. Once he comes back, he will hold a mega-rally at Gangavathi in Koppal district to announce his political rebirth, they added. But Reddy has not made any announcement on launching the new party till now.

Reddy is expected to contest from Gangavathi and his wife Aruna Reddy from Gadag district. He is planning to invite disgruntled leaders from both Congress and BJP to support his party and contest elections, the sources said. His party will contest from at least 25 constituencies, they added. "Reddy has a stronghold in over 10 Assembly seats and has the capacity to win many seats," said his follower.

Reddy is known to have a sizable number of supporters in Ballari, Vijayanagara, Koppal, Raichur, Yadagiri and Bidar districts. After keeping himself away from politics over the last few years, he had recently approached BJP to allow him to contest, but there has been no response, sources said.

If Reddy launches his party, BJP would be most worried as he is likely to eat into its vote share. The saffron party had faced a similar situation in 2013 when BS Yediyurappa left BJP to float the Karnataka Janata Party and Reddy brothers formed BSR Congress with the help of current minister B Sriramulu. This turned out to be an advantage for Congress which eventually won the elections that year.

But Janardhana Reddy's brother G Somasekhara Reddy, who is Ballari MLA from BJP, denied that a new party will be floated. "My brother will not leave BJP nor will he launch a new party," he said.

Political observers said that Reddy may not float a new party, but could be spreading the news to put BJP under pressure and allow him to contest from the party again. "Reddy is known for surprises. Unless confirmed by Reddy on the new party, nothing can be said," they added.

Nadda to unveil 10 dist BJP Bhavans tomorrow

Kalaburagi: New BJP bhavans are ready in 10 districts including Koppal, Raichur and Bidar districts of Kalyana Karnataka region. BJP chief JP Nadda will inaugurate the Bhavan in Koppal, and the remaining will be inaugurated virtually on Thursday, said BJP co-convener of Kalyana Karnataka Region, Amaranth Patil on Tuesday. The construction works of the BJP Bhavans in Kalaburagi and Yadgir districts will be completed in four months, and the election works will be done from the bhavans for the districts. In the remaining district, the process of purchasing land is in progress. He said all the bhavans will have 4-5 floors and a hall with a seating capacity of 500 people.

Report on Sadashiva panel in 2 months

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE state government on Tuesday constituted a cabinet sub-committee, headed by Law Minister JC Madhu Swamy, to study the Justice AJ Sadashiva commission report on internal reservation for communities among Scheduled Castes.

The committee includes Water Resources Minister Govind Karjol, Fisheries and Ports Minister S Angara, Animal Husbandry Minister Prabhu Chauhan and Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar.

The government that recently decided to increase the reservation for SC/STs seems to be making all efforts to woo the communities ahead of the Assembly polls.

The Justice Sadashiva commission, which was set up in 2005, gave its report to the government in 2012 when DV Sadananda Gowda was chief minister. It has suggested the reclassification of 101 castes among SCs into four sub-sects. BJP state SC Morcha president Chaluvadi Narayanswamy welcomed the state government's decision to constitute the sub-committee and said it is likely to give its report in two months.

He slammed Congress for not taking any decision on the commission's recommendation though there was a demand from the community.

Veerashaiva Mahasabha to root for EWS quota

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

THE Veerashaiva Mahasabha will try to claim reservation set aside for the economically weaker sections (EWS). The argument is that the main beneficiary of the 10 per cent reservation will be upper castes. In Karnataka, there is a question mark over who will enjoy this benefit as Brahmins constitute a mere 3 per cent.

The All-India Veerashaiva Mahasabha that will be held for three days from December 24 is expected to discuss this issue. It will figure in two of the nine subjects that will be up for discussion, said Mahasabha Secretary Renuka Prasanna. One group of Lingayats is aiming for this quota, while Panchamasali Lingayats are protesting for backward 2-A status. The deadline for giving the 2A reservation, set by Jaya Mrutyunjaya Swamiji is December 19.

If the government allows the reservation under 2A, the entire Lingayat community will benefit as there are no official documents to identify Panchamsalis and other Lingayat sub-castes separately, Prasanna said.

Political analyst BS Murthy said, "There is no bandwidth in the reservation matrix to accommodate 17 per cent in the backward 2 A reservation.

EWS reservation is an opportunity for the community. That this option will be explored just five days after the expiry of the deadline is interesting."

The Mahasabha meeting will also present the claim that Veerashaivas are a separate religion and will seek minority status. The issue was first raised in 1940 at the All-India meet in Kumbakonam, sources associated with the Mahasabha said.

The Mahasabha will be attended by Lingayats from other states too and around 3,000 delegates will arrive from Tamil Nadu, Kerala, Maharashtra, Andhra Pradesh and Telangana. Around 1,200 registrations have been received from other states, sources said.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Chitradurga/ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka government on Tuesday appointed retired IAS officer PS Vastrad as administrator of Murugha Mutt with immediate effect. He will take charge on Wednesday.

The government decided to appoint an administrator based on the confidential report about administration of the mutt and SJM educational institutions filed by Chitradurga DC Divyaprabhu GRJ.

The DC had stated that irregularities could have taken place in the mutt administration and properties, and as the mutt comes under Public Trust, appropriate legal action should be initiated.

The report was forwarded to the advocate-general for his opinion and the suggestion to appoint an administrator.

Cong to hold Backward Classes meets in five regions

ENS @ Bengaluru

CONGRESS plans to organise the minority and Backward Classes convention meetings in five regions in January 2023, said KPCC working president Saleem Ahmed.

Saleem said that in the first week of January, leaders will cover 150 Assembly constituencies, stressing on the government's failure, corruption, unemployment, among other issues.

The conventions will be held at at Vijayapura on December 30 which will be on the Krishna Project, while the January 2 convention in Hubballi will be about Mahadayi river dispute, he said.

Regarding meeting with leaders from the minority community on Tuesday, Saleem said at least 55 leaders from the community have taken part, where discussions were held on the deletions of names of those from the minority community from the voters' list. Saleem denied having any discussion on making a Muslim chief minister.

All for win: DK Cong sets Vastu right

VINCENT D'SOUZA @ Mangaluru

CONGRESS, which has been trying everything to storm back to power, is making some Vaastu changes at its Dakshina Kannada District Congress Committee office building at Mallikatte in Mangaluru, hoping that the party's stars will change in this BJP citadel in the upcoming Assembly polls.

The changes considered are an extra step to the staircase at the entrance, changing the direction of commode in the DCC president's cabin and others at this office, which is less than a decade old. DCC president K Harish Kumar denied that the changes are for Vastu reasons and termed them repair works.

But sources said the changes are being carried out as suggested by a Vastu expert. A former mayor, who is also a ticket aspirant from an Assembly constituency in Mangaluru city, said a step is being added as it has to be an even number. "There were a few other things that needed to be changed. I hope it brings good tidings for the party," said the leader.

An extra step at the entrance of the district Congress office

Among the top suggestions to change party's political prospects, sources said that Vastu changes figured prominently. The party decided to go for it as KPCC president DK Shivakumar also believes in Vastu.

Congress' new office at Mallikatte in Mangaluru was inaugurated when Siddaramaiah was CM. Before that, the office was in a rented premises in Hampankatta. "After we shifted to the new office, the party saw its worst results in both Assembly and Lok Sabha polls. This could be because of lack of emphasis on Vastu during construction," said a leader.

Hindu outfits demand dress code at Murudeshwar temple

SUBHASH CHANDRA NS @ Karwar

HINDU organisations have approached the Murudeshwar temple authorities to introduce a dress code for devotees. This follows a similar move by Gokarna Mahabaleshwar temple recently. At Mahabaleshwar temple, male devotees and tourists should wear a dhoti, while women must be dressed in a saree or churidar. Various Hindu organisations, under the aegis of Hindu Jana Jagruthi Samithi (HJJS), have approached Murudeshwar authorities, seeking a dress code similar to Gokarna temple. "We met the trustees and appealed to them to implement a dress code," said Sharath Kumar Naik, district convenor of HJJS. Naik said that thousands of people arrive in Uttara Kannada as it is a tourist destination. "They visit temples without being dressed appropriately as per the tradition. Some tourists had put their footwear in their bags, and visited a temple, which triggered the demand," said Srikanth Naik, another member of HJJS.

HJJS has already approached Sirsi Marikamba temple and Madhukeshwara temple in Banavasi urging them to introduce a dress code. "Marikamba temple and Banavasi temple trust members have already held a meeting," said Naik.

HJJS will appeal to all the trusts of temples like Gunavanteshwara, Dhareshwar and Shejjeshwar, among others to implement a dress code. "Once a temple decides the dress code, it should put up a board informing the visitors," he said. "We can't introduce a 100% dress code. But we've made the dress code must for devotees," Vishnu Bhat, chief priest, Idugunji Ganapathi Temple, told TNIE.

KERALA PASSES BILL TO REPLACE GUV

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @T'Puram

THE government acted astutely in the assembly on Monday, agreeing to partially incorporate a major amendment brought in by the Opposition in the key bills aimed at stripping the governor of chancellorship of universities in Kerala.

And, at a time when political circles are debating whether the IUML will switch sides, the House also saw Industries Minister P Rajeeve heaping praises on the League for its hard-line stance on the governor.

The assembly later passed the University Laws (Amendment) Bill No 2 and 3 after incorporating the changes amid Oppositioon boycott. When the bills came up for discussion, Leader of Opposition V D Satheesan first proposed to have a single chancellor, either a retired Supreme Court judge or a former chief justice of the High Court, for all universities. The government rejected the proposal.

It partially accepted the Opposition's demand for a three-member panel, comprising the chief minister and the leader of opposition, for selecting the chancellors. Though the Opposition had suggested the HC chief justice as the third member, Law Minister P Rajeeve said his inclusion in the panel had several "procedural issues."

"A chancellor is supposed to give direction to the university. I do not hold the view that retired judges have extraordinary capabilities to give directions in the realm of higher education," he said, adding that the government had not taken a decision whether all 14 universities will necessarily have separate chancellors. "That will be decided only at a later stage," Rajeeve said.

The government then suggested the assembly speaker as the third member, a move that would give the ruling dispensation the upper hand in chancellor appointments. The legislations will now be sent to Governor Arif Mohammed Khan for assent.

Meanwhile, P Rajeeve kept on lauding League's hard-line approach towards Khan. On the other hand, IUML leaders reiterated the party's resolve to remove the governor as the chancellor.

400 jumbos outside forests in K'taka as numbers increase

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

KARNATAKA, which boasts of being an elephant and tiger state, has been witnessing increasing cases of man-animal conflicts after the pandemic.

As per the 2017 survey, the state housed 6,049 elephants, which is said to have increased to around 7,000- 7,500 now. That is not all, forest department officials said over 400 jumbos are wandering outside forest areas and have made the urban habitation their home.

Of these 400, 200 are in and around Kodagu and 60-70 in Hassan with 100-150 elephants into crop raiding. Forest officials also pointed out that the carrying capacity of forests for elephants is reducing. In some areas, one elephant occupies a territory of 1-2 sqkm, which is very dense.

To address the issue of increasing cases of conflict, the state government has formed an elephant conflict task force and a special committee to assess areas which can be declared as elephant corridors. The government has also hiked the compensation for the family of elephant attack victims and for crop damage. But officials and experts state that the actual problem is not being addressed.

"If you notice, the cases of conflict increase when elections are round the corner. Problems have increased because of multiple reasons. Buffer zones are no longer maintained. With availability of IP sets, seeds and other facilities, farmers are taking up agricultural activities round the year. So elephants, which ideally follow a migratory path and return to forests, do not do so as standing crops are more favourable. There are no more community forests. Animals have no place for refuge as there are no more common land spaces to house spill over population," a senior forest department official told The New Indian Express.

The additional enrichment outside forest areas is helping wandering elephants and leading to increase in population. The other matter of concern is illegal brewing of hooch. "If you assess closely, aged and wandering elephants are getting more into conflict," the official added

The Ministry of Environment, Forests and Climate Change has also noted that Karnataka, Kerala and Tamil Nadu house the highest elephant population of over 12,000.

"Earlier Tamil Nadu would drive elephants outside their forests and Karnataka would see conflict. But now, with population in Karnataka forests also increasing, patches like Cauvery Wildlife Sanctuary or others are refusing to take in elephants chased from urban areas. Another worry is female elephants in camp drawing wild tuskers," the official added.

KEEPING LID ON FOOD PRICES IS KEY TO EASING INFLATION

It is good news for consumers that retail inflation has eased to an 11-month low of 5.88% in November on the back of global cooling in commodity prices and the rising cost of borrowing. This is the first time the inflation rate has fallen within the upper limit of the Reserve Bank of India's tolerance limit of 6% since December last. The sharp fall surprised the analyst community since they had predicted only a marginal correction to 6.40%. The cooling of food inflation to 4.6% in November, as against 7.01% in the preceding month, has played a major role. Food inflation accounts for nearly half the Consumer Price Index (CPI) on which inflation is measured. While softening global commodity prices has contributed to inflation easing, one must also commend government intervention for keeping food prices in control, especially those of cereals, pulses and edible oils.

To counter rising inflation in recent months, the RBI has hiked the repo rate by 225 basis points since May, taking the terminal rate to 6.25%, the highest since March 2019. This has increased the cost of funds, and we have seen a fall in investment in recent times. It is, therefore, not surprising that along with the easing of retail inflation comes the bad news that industrial output contracted by 4% in October, the lowest in 26 months. This is a matter of concern as it flags the slowing of the economy.

The bright side is the central bank will now be ready to pause rate hikes as inflation is seen easing towards 5% in the first quarter of the next calendar year. With inflation under control and easier access to credit, we can expect economic growth and employment to pick up. However, there is no time to rest on our laurels. The sharp deceleration of food prices is unlikely to sustain, and analysts expect that for December, retail inflation may rise again in the 5.9%–6.1% band.

There are many other imponderables, like the Ukraine war; a sudden shortage of crude oil supplies may send fuel inflation spiralling. What has worked wonderfully is the market intervention to control food prices, and the government will do well to sustain this policy. Continuing money transfers to those at the bottom of the pyramid, along with a tight check on prices and anti-hoarding measures, can further ease inflationary pressures.

IT'S TIME FAMILIES OPEN UP ABOUT SEX

The Chief Justice of India, Justice D Y Chandrachud, flagging the issue of the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act criminalising consensual sexual activities among those under 18 years of age in 'romantic relationships', is a welcome call. He has urged Parliament to address the issue while stressing on the need to take a relook at the consent age in child rape laws which is currently 18.

In his keynote address at the two-day national consultation on the POCSO Act, organised by the Supreme Court Committee on Juvenile Justice in association with UNICEF on December 11, CJI Chandrachud pointed out that the criminalisation is regardless of whether consent is factually present between two minors engaged in sexual activity. He said this posed problems for judges across the spectrum while hearing this category of cases.

The problem was separately brought out in a study by Enfold Proactive Health Trust and UNICEF India. It looked at 7,064 POCSO judgments in Assam, Maharashtra and West Bengal, registered between 2016 and 2020. It found that 1,715 cases involved the admission of a consensual sexual relationship between the complainant and the accused. But in 87.9% of these cases involving consensual sex (1,508 cases), the girl had admitted to being in a "romantic relationship" with the boy.

Now, how Parliament responds to the CJI's call remains to be seen. It will be a huge challenge that needs to be debated at different levels, involving legal, health, educational and psychological experts. Most importantly, one must watch how Indian society reacts to possibly lowering the age of consent to have sex (if it happens) from 18 years. Talk of sex, even by adults in front of elders, is a taboo in most Indian homes, let alone minors. As CJI Chandrachud pointed out at the same event, the culture of silence helps sexual abuse of children remain a hidden problem. This also concerns the fear of the victims' family honour being affected in such incidents. Today, technology provides adolescents with easy access to almost everything in the world, including sex. There must be debates, discussions and measures to remove sex from the taboo list. Urgency demands the introduction of sex education in schools across India. It's time for kids and their parents to open up about sex.

QUICK TAKE

GETTING TOUGH ON TOBACCO

A parliamentary committee seeks the abolition of designated smoking zones in airports and hotels to ward off tobacco-induced cancer. At the same time, it wants taxes on tobacco products raised. It is nobody's case that smoking is encouraged. But one can't wish for a smoke-free environment and still look for revenue from tobacco taxes. Either recognise an individual's private choice to smoke and limit smoking to private spaces only. Or ban tobacco products altogether. Smoking zones cater to a minuscule section of the population. The real danger is easy access to cigarettes and chewing tobacco for minors and the youth.

Notwithstanding the rights to women enshrined in the common civil code, Goa is a patriarchal society. The code may be egalitarian but the society remains inegalitarian

GOA'S UNIFORM CIVIL CODE NOT A PERFECT MODEL

ARUN SINHA

Journalist and author of Goa Indica: A Critical Portrait of Postcolonial Goa

SOURAV ROY

In conversations over the idea of a Uniform Civil Code, Goa's name often comes up. They say if Goa can have a Uniform Civil Code, why can't the rest of the country? BJP leaders, the most zealous champions of it, do not lose an opportunity in recommending the Goa model. A parliamentary panel headed by BJP leader Sushil Modi visited Goa in June to study the model.

A few questions become interesting here: What is Goa's Uniform Civil Code? How has it worked for the people of different communities over the years? Can it be a model for the rest of India?

First of all, no single law exists in Goa by the name of Uniform Civil Code. There are 'family laws'—separately governing marriage, divorce, succession, inheritance, guardianship of children, adoption, gifts and so on—that have been grouped as Uniform Civil Code for nomenclatural convenience. The first set of family laws were introduced by the king of Portugal in his country and colonial provinces like Goa in 1870. They were amended, and more laws were added to the group over the years.

Although Goa's Uniform Civil Code applied equally to all communities—Hindus, Christians and Muslims—it was not totally uniform. Certain communities enjoyed privileges.

For instance, though civil marriage—marriage recorded with the registrar—alone was held maintainable under law for Hindus and Muslims, in the case of Christians, even a church marriage was valid. Religious marriages of Hindus and Muslims were not valid.

The Christians enjoyed the special privilege from 1870 to 1910, when the republicans seized power in Portugal, overthrew the monarchy, and passed another set of family laws—Law of Marriage, Law of Divorce and the Code of Civil Registration—which laid down common procedures for all for registration of marriage and divorce, annulling the validity of church marriage. In 1940, the Vatican prevailed over the Portuguese government to re-validate church marriage, until a court in free Goa declared it null and void in 1974, saying Articles 14 and 15 of the Constitution allowed no discrimination on religious grounds.

Goa's 'uniform' civil code allowed certain privileges also to Hindus in such matters like second marriage under a law called the Code of Usages and Customs of Gentile Hindus. It allowed a Hindu man to take a second wife if his first one delivered no issue till the age of 25 or no male issue till the age of 30. It sounds absurd today but it is a part of the common civil code.

In most respects, however, the civil code was the same for everybody regardless of religion. One of the strongest and most unique features of the monarchical civil code, which neither the republicans nor the Salazarists ever tampered with, was the relationship of marriage to property. The man and woman were required to sign a contract before marriage on how they would like the marital property to be governed. There were four regimes under which marital property could be governed, but the commonest choice was the regime called 'Communion of Properties'. This regime applied by default even to the couples who signed no contract.

Under this 'communion' regime, all the properties brought by either of the spouses by gift, succession or previous exclusive right from before the marriage as well as all the properties acquired or earned by either of them during the subsistence of the marriage, were to be held as common property by the two spouses till the dissolution of the marriage by death, divorce or separation. No revocation of or changes in the contract was allowed during the subsistence of marriage.

The ownership and possession of the common properties were vested in both the spouses during the subsistence of marriage. Immovable properties could not be alienated or charged in any manner without the consent of both spouses. The husband could not renounce any inheritance without the consent of the wife.

In case of divorce or separation, the common properties were to be equally divided between the spouses. A spouse was entitled to half share of the common properties even if he or she did not bring any ancestral or previously held assets from before marriage.

Goa's civil code was excellent in terms of theoretically guaranteeing religious and gender equality. But how did it work in the real life of Goans?

According to M S Usgaocar, the most well-known expert on Goa's civil code, the philosophy behind the code was to strengthen the family. The regime of 'Communion of Properties' was aimed to consolidate the marital bond by making the property common and indivisible and by minimising the chances of marital discord with the threat of equal partition hanging over the head of either spouse.

However, evidence showed the code had failed to prevent marital discord. According to the Goa State Commission for Women, the number of cases of domestic violence has been rising. Nearly 70% of cases filed with the Commission between September 2020 to March 2021 were caused by domestic violence. The commission received 15–20 cases of domestic violence every month.

Despite the code, there are cases of bigamy among all communities, Hindus, Christians and Muslims. A man, while having a wife from civil marriage, marries another according to religious customs, so the law cannot come after him because he has not violated the civil marriage. There is no law binding a Hindu, Christian or Muslim priest to not solemnise a marriage without a certificate from the civil registrar that the man was not married.

Despite the code, divorce has been rising. The divorce rate in the state was 4.5% in 2020, which was considered very high, considering India's divorce rate of 1.1%.

Clearly, notwithstanding the rights to women enshrined in the common civil code, Goa remains a patriarchal society. The code may be egalitarian but the society remains inegalitarian. The woman still remains the weaker partner in marriage and is not expected to cry aloud to the world when her husband subjects her to cruelties, takes another woman or manipulates legal documents to deny her just share of the 'Communion of Properties'.

An ideal common civil code for other states or the country has to correct these major gaps that exist in Goa's civil code in order to make it truly egalitarian and just to women.

LAYERED EUROPEAN ENERGY ENIGMA

DR SWASTI RAO

Associate Fellow, Europe and Eurasia Center, Manohar Parrikar Institute for Defence Studies and Analyses

The EU-wide ban on Russian oil came into effect a few days ago when the Group of Seven (G7) advanced economies and Australia agreed on a $60-per-barrel price cap on Russian seaborne oil and petroleum products. The cap and the EU sanctions both came into effect on December 5. The price cap has been introduced as a safety valve against the harsh impacts of the oil ban on the global economy and oil flows.

The price cap has three broad objectives—control volatility in energy prices, impede the revenues Russia earns from energy sales, and for countries outside of Europe, to ensure a reliable supply of Russian petroleum products in the global market so that developing markets are not cut off from Russian oil supplies.

While the West, sans the EU, had already imposed oil sanctions in March 2022, the EU took a six-month window to discuss the conflicting issues entangled in banning Russian oil. The December 5 ban is the first part of banning Russian oil. The second part will take effect on February 5, when Russian petroleum products will also be banned.

EU's repeated failures at coming to a universally agreed price cap have gripped the attention of economists worldwide. If the EU had failed to form a consensus, then the oil ban would have taken effect without the safety valve, which may have spelt doom for the energy sector and in its wake, for the global economy reeling under massive strains already.

The delay in deciding on the price cap was less to do with countries like Germany's and France's respective stands on Russia, but from other states within the EU. Maritime nations like Greece, Cyprus and Malta were softer on the price cap because of the vested interests of their shipping industries. The other group of the three Baltic States and Poland argued for capping the price low enough so that Russian revenues could be severely damaged.

Several rounds of agreements were held before a compromise was struck.

It would be counter-intuitive to imagine President Putin had not already factored in the ban. Anticipating the oil sanctions, Russia had already started diverting its seaborne oil exports at a 30% discount to China, India, and Turkey. This shift was done to substitute for the volumes sent to Europe.

Does it mean that the oil sanctions would not have any role to play in lessening Russia's oil revenues?

Russia was shipping about 1.7 million barrels of oil to Europe daily, already a million barrels less than in January 2022. Russia will not be able to shift all that oil to alternate markets. Even in the best-case scenario, Moscow will lose a million and a half barrels of oil per day to logistics. It does not have enough ships or pipelines to divert all of its erstwhile exports to Europe. Therefore, Russia will lose volumes, regardless of the price.

AP

> A critical part of the sanctions package concerns shipping insurance. ... This will hinder Russia's ability to redirect crude oil and petroleum products to other regions

The geo-economic entanglement gets denser: Whether it will impact global pricing would also depend on the Saudi-led OPEC oil cartel. Whether OPEC will ramp up production to replace the lost 1.5 billion barrels of Russian oil from global supply or not—is something on which OPEC has not issued a statement yet.

If OPEC doesn't, then the price of Brent might go up to $100 per barrel or more. Even after discounts, Russia will still earn more money than the current cap of $60. But on the other hand, the net loss will still be in terms of export volumes that Russia will lose.

It is precisely for this reason that the price cap has been introduced as a safety valve, which will ensure that, one, prices don't skyrocket as significant parts of Russian oil disappear from the global market, and two, that Russia keeps flowing its oil to alternate markets. Sensing their indispensability, markets like China, India and Turkey would be better positioned to seek more discounts. That is what Janet Yellen, US Treasury Secretary, emphasised on during her recent trip to India.

If, however, OPEC does ramp up production, it would ease the prices of oil globally but would affect the net profits of the OPEC countries. Russia, on its part, would still lose volumes, as stated earlier.

A critical part of the sanctions package (Article 3n of the EU Regulation) concerns shipping insurance. Shipping insurance from the European Union and the United Kingdom lies at the core of the maritime insurance industry. This factor will hinder Russia's ability to redirect crude oil and petroleum products to other regions. Ship owners will be reluctant towards uninsured Russian cargoes.

Alternative insurance providers in Russia, China, India or other countries are likely to step in, but if they have any European connection or component, they would be allowed to carry oil sold only at $60 per barrel or below, no matter what the global prices are.

Reports show that Russia has recently bought about 100 tankers to maintain exports after the ban.

The bottom line is that the ban and the price cap will not deter Russia from the war or stop Russia from selling oil but will impact the export volumes significantly. In the short run, a rising trade surplus ensures enough money to sustain Russia and fund key military industries. But in the longer term, the Russian economic model might weaken considerably alongside technological shortfalls.

Global crude flows are changing their tracks along the world map. Europe has started to import more oil from the United States, West Africa, and West Asia. European refiners looking for substitutes for the Urals blend could turn to crude oil from Norway, Iraq, and the United States.

That said, replacing all lost volumes from Russia will be an equally humongous task for energy-starved Europe. And before Europe finds a way out, there will be a painful period of economic hardships cutting down its industrial output.

Therefore, the chessboard of geopolitics and geo-economics is being played out at its shrewd best in Europe with ramifications for all.

Russia's unethical tactics

Apropos of Ukraine war and its long road to the finish line (Dec 13). Russia is guilty of violating the ethics of war. It has been acting against humanitarian causes by destroying basic necessities in this freezing winter. World leaders must initiate a truce between the warring nations.

China's habits die hard

Apropos of Another LAC clash, this time in Arunachal (Dec 13). China's new misadventure is in conformity with the proverbial saying that old habits die hard. Encroaching another's territory is not a new thing for China. The retaliatory steps by Indian forces towards the aggressors is a matter of consolation.

Indo-China border clash

The latest clash between Indian and Chinese soldiers on the Arunachal Pradesh mountain border is yet another sordid episode between the two neighbours. Despite charting out plans and emphasising on peace, the repeated provocations by the Chinese have been embarrassing, inappropriate and in bad taste.

Kavitha's politics

Apropos of Telangana women strong and fearless, says Kavita (Dec 13). It is very funny that Kavita, asked to clarify certain matters by investigating agencies, gives a statement that Telangana women are strong. If there are no malafide intentions, there ends the matter; why talk of other women? In Telangana, politics is "too political".

Nirbhayam a creative measure

Apropos of Over 1 lakh downloads; women make 1,311 distress calls via 'Nirbhayam' (Dec 13). It is good that the government is taking creative measures to ensure women's safety. In fact, the officers are willing to go above and beyond to raise awareness about this app. All of this is fine, but what is more essential is teaching men to treat women with kindness and consideration.

Cong gasping for air in Odisha

Apropos of After Odisha bypoll, Congress loses both its plot and face (Dec 13). Winning voters' confidence is a prerequisite to win elections in a democracy. The Congress has miserably failed in this regard in Odisha. Infighting within the party and absence of a regional satrap is the bane of the Congress' decimation in Odisha. Party plans string of events to mark four years of Gehlot govt, 100 days of Bharat Jodo Yatra

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

THE Congress is in a celebratory mood in Rajasthan, ahead of two milestones for the party this month — the completion of four years of the Ashok Gehlot government in the state as well as 100 days of Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra. The Congress will hold a grand celebration in Jaipur on Friday to mark the occasions. Rahul will attend the colourful programme as the chief guest on December 16, the eve of completion of Gehlot's four years in office.

A performance by singer Sunidhi Chauhan will also be a part of the event to be held at Jaipur's Albert Hall, AICC general secretary Jairam Ramesh said on Tuesday. Besides Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot, state party in-charge Sukhjinder Randhawa, former deputy chief minister Sachin Pilot and PCC chief Govind Singh Dotasara, all the major state leaders will be present at the programme. The event will also mark 100 days of the Bharat Jodo Yatra, which started from Kanyakumari on September 7 and has so far covered Tamil Nadu, Kerala, Andhra Pradesh, Karnataka, Telangana, Maharashtra and Madhya Pradesh. The march will conclude in Jammu and Kashmir in February 2023.

"The Yatra will complete 100 days on December 16 and it will be a milestone," Ramesh said at a press conference on Tuesday. The occasion will be observed through a glittering Bharat Jodo Concert. Rahul will also address a press conference in Dausa that afternoon.

New Himachal Pradesh CM Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu and Congress MLAs from the state will also join Rahul's yatra on Friday. According to Ramesh, a public meeting will also be held in Alwar on December 19. The Congress government will complete four years of its term in Rajasthan on December 17. A range of programmes will be held from December 17 to December 28 to publicise the achievements of the Gehlot government. The chief minister will also hold a press conference on Saturday to mark the occasion, during which he will present an account of the achievements of his tenure.

A four-day exhibition will also be organised at Jawahar Kala Kendra in Jaipur, in which the work done by all the government departments and their progress will be showcased.

Also on display will be the various public welfare schemes launched by the government, including the Old Pension Scheme and the Chief Minister Chiranjeevi Health Insurance Scheme. There will also be direct communication with the beneficiaries and the ambitious programme to provide smartphones to needy women will finally be launched during these celebrations.

US lab says evidence planted on Stan Swamy's computer

NEW YORK: A US-based forensic firm on Tuesday claimed that digital evidence used to arrest Jesuit priest Father Stan Swamy in the Bhima-Koregaon case was "planted" on his computer's hard drive, similar to two other cases involving human rights defenders Rona Wilson and Surendra Gadling. Swamy, 84, who was an accused in the Elgar Parishad-Maoist links case, died in July 2021, while waiting for interim bail on medical grounds.

An examination of an electronic copy of his computer by Arsenal Consulting, a Massachusetts-based digital forensics firm, concluded that a hacker infiltrated his device and "planted" evidence,

The Washington Post reported, citing a new report by the company.

This follows previous reports which documented digital evidence planting on the devices of other human rights activists Rona Wilson and Surendra Gadling, the firm said in its report. "Over 50 files were created on Swamy's hard drive, including incriminating documents that fabricated links between him and the Maoist insurgency," the report said.

"The final incriminating document was planted on his computer on June 5, 2019, a week before the raid on Swamy," the report said.

It was on the basis of these documents that he was first arrested in the Bhima Koregaon case, despite experts raising doubts about the authenticity of the documents, it added. The Elgar case relates to alleged inflammatory speeches delivered at the 'Elgar Parishad' conclave, held at Shaniwarwada in Pune on December 31, 2017, which the police claimed triggered violence the next day near the Koregaon-Bhima war memorial located on the city's outskirts.

The Pune Police claimed the conclave was backed by Maoists. After Swamy's death, a spokesperson for the Ministry of External Affairs had said that his detention followed due process of law. In response to the media queries on the demise of Father Swamy last year, the MEA spokesperson said that his bail applications were rejected by the courts because of the specific nature of charges against him.

"India's democratic and constitutional polity is complemented by an independent judiciary, a range of national and state level Human Rights Commissions that monitor violations, a free media and a vibrant and vocal civil society. India remains committed to promotion and protection of human rights of all its citizens,' he had said. PTI

RGF received funds from Chinese embassy: Shah

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

AS the Opposition parties staged a walkout in Parliament demanding a discussion on the India-China border tension, Union Home Minister Amit Shah on Tuesday said that the Congress stalled the House proceedings due to a question on cancellation of FCRA registration of Rajiv Gandhi Foundation.

Addressing the media outside Parliament, the Home Minister said that RGF registration was cancelled because it violated FCRA rules. Recently, the Home Ministry had cancelled the FCRA licence of the Foundation citing violation of rules.

"The Congress stalled Question Hour even after being informed that the Defence Minister will give a statement on the issue. After seeing question number 5, I realized the reason behind it," he said.

Lashing out at Congress, he said that the RGF received funds from the Chinese Embassy and Islamic preacher Zakir Naik. "RGF got Rs 1.35 crore from the Chinese embassy during 2005-07. The foundation claims that the donation was used for research on India-China relations," he said.

"Did they also research how China took thousands of hectares of Indian land in 1962 money," he said. He also claimed that India's permanent seat in the UN Security Council was sacrificed because of Nehru's love for China.

Shah also referred to the Chinese issuing paper visas to Jammu and Kashmir residents in 2010. The Union Minister also said that China had raised questions about former Prime Minister Manmohan Singh's visit to Arunachal Pradesh.

"The Modi government will not cede an inch of land," he said. The Home Minister appreciated the bravery of the soldiers.

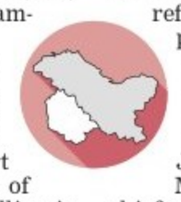
India slams: 'OIC has no locus standi on Kashmir'

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

INDIA has condemned Organisation of Islamic Cooperation (OIC)'s secretary general, Hissein Brahim Taha's, visit to Pakistan occupied Kashmir (PoK) and his comments on Jammu and Kashmir.



"Let me reiterate that OIC has no locus standi in matters related to J&K, which is an integral and inalienable part of India. Any attempt of interference and meddling in India's internal affairs by OIC and its secretary general is completely unacceptable," Ministry of External Affairs spokesperson, Arindam Bagchi said.

The OIC has a 57-member group of largely Muslim majority nations and India has said that the OIC has already lost its credibility by taking a blatantly communal, partisan and factually incorrect approach to important issues. "Its secretary general has unfortunately become a mouth-piece of Pakistan. We hope that he would refrain from becoming a partner in carrying out the nefarious agenda of Pakistan of promoting cross border terrorism into India, especially in J&K," Bagchi added.

Meanwhile, the OIC chief said that the group has been working on a plan to find a channel of discussion between Pakistan and India on the Kashmir issue. "I think the most important thing is to find the channel of discussion between the stakeholders (India and Pakistan) and we are working on a plan of action in this regard," Taha said.

Govt moves bill in RS to include Gonds in parts of UP in ST list

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

CUTTING across party lines, a majority of leaders supported on Tuesday a bill taken up in the Rajya Sabha that seeks to include the Gond community in the Scheduled Tribes category in parts of Uttar Pradesh. Union Tribal Affairs Minister Arjun Munda moved the Constitution (Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes) Orders (Second Amendment) Bill, 2022, and said that it aims to empower the ST community.

The bill seeks to amend the Constitution (Scheduled Tribes) (Uttar Pradesh) Order, 1967 (ST Order) and the Constitution (Scheduled Castes) Order, 1950 (SC Order) with respect to its application to Uttar Pradesh. It seeks inclusion of the Gond community in the Scheduled Tribes category in Chandauli, Kushinagar, Sant Kabir Nagar and Sant Ravidas Nagar districts of Uttar Pradesh, and also amends the ST order to recognise the community as ST in these four districts. It was earlier introduced in Lok Sabha on March 28, and was passed on April 1.

Initiating the discussion, Congress leader Pramod Tiwari wanted to know why the inclusion of the Gond community in the ST list was only limited to four districts and not to the entire state. He accused the government of ignoring the interests of SC and ST communities. "The minister should also reply as to why atrocities against SC and ST increase in the country whenever the BJP-led government is formed at the Centre? It was the Congress-led UPA government that had done a lot for STs and allocated funds," Tiwari said.

RJD MP Manoj Kumar Jha said that the reservation cap for the OBCs in the country should be raised and a caste-based census conducted. He also questioned the abolition of many scholarships meant for ST and other communities. TMC MP Santanu Sen called the government's welfare work for ST and SC communities "tokenism" and said "instead of shedding crocodile tears for the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes, the government should try to work on the ground for their betterment."

While supporting the bill, Fauzia Khan of the NCP demanded the inclusion of Dhankhad community from Maharashtra to the ST list while RLD leader Jayant Chaudhary asked the same status for the UP's Kol community.

Collegium recommends names of five judges for elevation to SC

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

PURSUANT to the Central government clearing the name for Justice Dipankar Datta's elevation as SC judge, Supreme Court collegium headed by CJI DY Chandrachud on Tuesday recommended five names to the Centre for elevation as SC judges. The names of the five judges who have been recommended for elevation and SC judges are Justice Pankaj Mithal (CJ of Rajasthan HC), Justice Sanjay Karol (CJ of Patna HC), Justice PV Sanjay Kumar (CJ of Manipur HC), Justice Ahsanuddin Amanullah (Judge of Patna HC) and Justice Manoj Mishra (Judge of Allahabad HC).

If these names are cleared, the SC will have 33 judges out of the total sanctioned strength of 34. The six-member collegium has also recommended the elevation of Justice Sanjaya Kumar Mishra (currently as judge in Uttarakhand) as CJ of Jharkhand HC, Justice N Kotiswar Singh (currently Gauhati HC judge) as CJ of Jammu and Kashmir and Ladakh HC and Justice K. Vinod Chandran (currently Kerala HC) as CJ of Gauhati HC.

The recommendation assumes relevance amidst the tussle that is going on between the executive and judiciary with regards to appointment of judges. SC on various occasions has rapped the Center for their inordinate delay in appointment of judges of the SC and HC. While Union Law Minister Kiren Rijiju on certain occasions has criticised the present system of selection of judges through the collegium system by calling it "opaque", "unaccountable" and "alien to the Constitution".

Even VP Jagdeep Dhankar in his maiden speech in the Rajya Sabha had termed SC striking down National Judicial Commission (NJAC) as glaring instance of "severe compromise" of Parliamentary sovereignty and disregard of mandate of the people.

NAINITAL police has registered a case against five persons in connection with forced conversion on Tuesday. Police have registered the first case under new anti-conversion law. Uttarakhand Assembly had recently passed a law on religious conversion.

It is alleged that Saqib Saifi alias Shiv Thakur, a resident of Bambagar, changed his name and befriended a young woman. He allegedly raped her after they became close.

At the same time, he also put pressure on the woman to change her religion. When the girl came to know about Saqib's reality, she resisted and resorted to the police for help.

Nainital Senior Superintendent of Police Pankaj Bhatt said, "The report has been filed under Section 3 of the Uttarakhand Freedom of Religion Act. However, it can be placed in the category of pressure for conversion, not conversion. In the new government order, there is a provision of strict punishment for the accused. After the order comes, action will be taken according to the new rule."

Didi in Shillong: TMC is an all-India party

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE@ Guwahati

TRINAMOOL Congress (TMC) supremo and West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee on Tuesday said the TMC is not a party of West Bengal or the Bengalis, as projected by its critics, but of all India.

On her maiden visit to Shillong in election-bound Meghalaya, Banerjee picked the BJP solely for her attack. The BJP, which has two MLAs, is a constituent of the state's ruling coalition which the National People's Party (NPP) heads.

"There is a rumour that the Trinamool Congress is a Bengali party. If it is a Bengali party, why do people sing the national song and the national anthem, which were written by Bankim Chandra (Chatterjee) and Rabindranath (Tagore) respectively?" Banerjee asked.

She said "Jai Hind" was Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose's slogan and that Mother Teresa had received the Nobel Peace Prize from Kolkata. She asked if people would say all these personalities belonged only to Bengal and not India.

"Why do you divide people on the basis of caste and religion? Let us walk, think and speak together," Banerjee said. "I am a Bengali too and I am proud about it. I work for all India. I served in several ministries and am a seven-time former MP. You can't say I cannot come here because I am a Bengali," she added.

Attacking the BJP, she said the party is "jealous" of the TMC. She said the BJP had tried its best and "misused" power in the last West Bengal elections but could not defeat the TMC which won by two/third majority.

She criticised the Meghalaya government on the recent firing incident on the Assam border that left six people dead. She visited the houses of the five victims from Meghalaya and offered financial assistance of Rs 5 lakh each.

Marathi writer returns award in protest

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

FAMOUS Marathi writer Sharad Baviskar, who is a professor at JNU, has returned his award that he received for his autobiographical book, Bhura, in a protest against Maharashtra government's decision of withdrawing award to Kobard Ghandy Fractured Freedom — A Prison Memorial's Marathi translations.

The government had earlier given Laxman Shashtri award to Marathi translation of Ghandy's book, but after it was criticised for awarding a Naxalite-related book, the state withdrew the award. Anagha Lele had translated the book in Marathi. Baviskar said that taking back the given award is fascist. He said that the expert committee must have studied all aspects of the book before awarding it. "Why did the incumbent state government overrule the committee's decision... It's a people's award. We want to know who took the decision of cancelling the award?" Baviskar asked.

"If Maharashtra government changes its decision then I will accept the award," Baviskar added.

NASA plans human-space working group with ISRO

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) is planning on working with the Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) on establishing a human-space working group in India.

Kathryn Lueders, Associate Administrator, NASA's Space Operations Mission Directorate (SOMD), on Tuesday said the human-space working group will aim at understanding possible opportunities in the human space life area.

Delivering a talk on 'Future of Human Space Exploration' at the Indian Institute of Science (IISC) here, she said they intend on building infrastructure and networks on how to keep people safer and longer in space during missions. However, this is not linked with India's first manned space mission, Gaganyaan-1, which is scheduled to be launched in 2024.

Currently, NASA is working on exchanging data and exploring opportunities of sharing information about training protocols and data gathered from the human space groups to be leading the next steps towards Low Earth Orbit (LEO) economy or other lunar missions accordingly, which would benefit ISRO through its collaboration with NASA through the planned working group here.

Lueders said NASA will be launching a total of 60 multinational collaborations from the Kennedy Space Centre in 2023 with different small and large scale companies for building a better ecosystem in different aspects of human space collaborations, science and space technology as well.

NASA is already in collaboration with ISRO on the NISAR (NASA-ISRO Synthetic Aperture Radar) Mission. The work regarding NISAR is ongoing and integration of instruments and a potential shipment of that background is expected in Jan-Feb timeframe, Leuder said. NISAR is planned to be launched in 2024 from India's Satish Dhawan Space Center in Sriharikota, into a near-polar orbit.

NASA requires a minimum of three years of global science operations with the L-band radar, while ISRO is looking at five years of operations with the S-band radar over specified target areas in India and the Indian Ocean.

The NISAR mission will measure Earth's changing ecosystems, dynamic surfaces, and ice masses providing information about biomass, natural hazards, sea level rise, and groundwater, and will support a host of other applications. It will observe Earth's land and ice-covered surfaces globally with 12-day regularity on ascending and descending passes, sampling the planet every six days on an average for a baseline 3-year mission.

She explained many of the upcoming missions of NASA for the next 10-15 years from the Artemis programme, Lunar Gateway, etc. With the findings from various lunar missions, they plan on using the data and expertise toward building a Mars mission as well.

The decision was taken at the Dharam Prachar Committee (DPC) meeting held on Tuesday in Amritsar, which was presided over by SGPC president Harjinder Singh Dhami. It was also decided to form a joint committee of representatives of the SGPC and Nihang organisations to mark 200 years of Sikh general Baba Phula Singh's martyrdom.

Dhami referred to the ongoing trend of films being made on Sikh gurus and their family members, and said there has been resentment among the Sikh Sangat (public) over the issue, and objections from various religious societies and public had been reaching the SGPC regularly. The ban will be in effect until further decision.

'Ban will be in effect until further decision'

The decision was taken at the Dharam Prachar Committee (meeting held on Tuesday in Amritsar, which was presided over by SGPC president Harjinder Singh Dhami. Dhami referred to the ongoing trend of films being made on Sikh gurus and their family members, and said there has been resentment among the Sikh Sangat (public) over the issue, and objections from various religious societies and public had been reaching the SGPC regularly.

The SGPC had a few days back requested the Punjab government to ban the release of Punjabi film Dastaan-E-Sirhind, which depicted the life of the four sahibzadas (sons of 10th Sikh guru, Gobind Singh). "Several organisations and members of the Sikh community are raising protests to demand a ban on this film," Dhami had then said.In 2018, the Akal Takht (highest temporal body of the Sikhs) had banned Punjabi film Nanak Shah Fakir and in 2019 another film, Dastaan-E-Miri Piri, ran into trouble but was later allowed after some references were removed. In 2014, the animated Punjabi film Chaar Sahibzaade was released after getting permission from the SGPC.

Meanwhile, Dhami said the SGPC and Nihang organisations will jointly plan events to be held to mark the anniversary of Baba Phula Singh's martyrdom, which falls in March 2023. The events will feature Sikh religious preachings, for which a special van has been prepared to take the preachers from village to village, who will also inform people about Sikh history, principles and code of conduct. According to Dhami, special focus will be given to the border areas for the campaign. The van was flagged off by Dhami on Tuesday. It will operate under the supervision of Shaheed Sikh Missionary College, Amritsar.

US files criminal charges against founder of FTX

Arrested on Monday from Bahamas, Sam Bankman-Fried faces upto 115 years in jail

NEW YORK

US prosecutors slapped disgraced cryptocurrency tycoon Sam Bankman-Fried with multiple criminal charges on Tuesday for massive fraud as he built his FTX crypto empire.

The founder of the FTX platform, who was arrested in the Bahamas on Monday at the request of the United States, is facing a raft of accusations, including from US market regulators who say that the investor knowingly built a fraudulent house of cards.

The criminal charges, made by federal prosecutors in New York, pose the greatest legal peril for Bankman-Fried who risks a long jail sentence given the billions of dollars amounts involved.

In their indictment, US prosecutors said Bankman Fried also carried out money laundering, violated campaign finance laws and committed wire fraud from the very start of his company in 2019.

The US Securities and Exchange Commission said the onetime crypto wunderkind was "responsible for fraudulently raising billions of dollars from investors in FTX and misusing funds belonging to FTX's trading customers."

The legal hammer fell after 30-year-old defied legal advice and made multiple media appearances offering his version of his firm's sudden failure, usually by video link from the Bahamas.

According to a press release from the attorney general's office in the Bahamas, Bankman-Fried was to be held in custody before an expected request for his extradition by the US and a hearing was expected in Nassau on his legal fate. The maximum potential prison exposure from these charges is 115 years, according to Nicholas Biase, a spokesperson for US prosecutors.

US authorities will also seek to have Bankman-Fried forfeit all financial gains he might have received as part of the scheme. They are expected to request his extradition to the US, although the timing of that request is unclear.

A lawyer for Bankman-Fried, Mark S. Cohen, said on Tuesday he is "reviewing the charges with his legal team and considering all of his legal options." Agencies

Sunak vows to clear asylum backlog, return Albanians

LONDON

UK PM Rishi Sunak pledged on Tuesday to clear a backlog of asylum-seeker applications as he announced new measures aimed at curbing the number of migrants reaching the UK by crossing the English Channel.

Sunak said he was adding hundreds of workers to process asylum claims and to clear the backlog of more than 143,000 pending applications by the end of 2023. The extra staff will also focus on the swift removal of Albanian migrants who have arrived via the Channel in increasing numbers, Sunak said. More than 10,000 Albanians have arrived by that route to seek asylum this year, making up nearly a fourth of the record 44,000 people who traversed the waterway on small boats and made it to the UK.

UK recorded the arrival of only a few dozen Albanian asylum-seekers in 2020. British officials have said the large increase may be due to increased organisation by Albanian criminals working in France. AP

Paytm plans ₹850 cr share buyback at ₹810 apiece

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

THE Board of One 97 Communications, the parent company of fintech firm Paytm, in its meeting held on Tuesday has approved a proposal for buyback of equity shares of up to ₹850 crore (excluding buyback taxes and other transaction costs) at a maximum price of ₹810 per share.

The maximum buyback price of the shares is about 50% premium to Tuesday's closing price. The company said it has opted for open market route through stock exchanges method, which is to be completed within a maximum period of six months.

The fresh move by Paytm comes as its share prices are showing no signs of a pickup. The stock has crashed nearly 75% on exchanges since its listing in November 2021. One97 Communications had listed itself at an initial public offering (IPO) price of ₹2,150 and on Tuesday closed at ₹539 on the BSE. Until completion of the buyback period, the firm's directors and key management personnel — Vijay Shekhar Sharma (founder & CEO) and Madhur Deora (executive director, President & Group CFO) – will not be participating in any sale of shares. Sharma said, "We value our shareholders and their journey with us in the public markets. I believe a buyback at this stage will be beneficial for our stakeholders and will drive long-term shareholder value." Assuming a full buyback of ₹850 crore and applicable buyback taxes, the total outlay will be in excess of ₹1,048 crore. Paytm reiterated that proceeds from the IPO are not being directed towards the share repurchase plan. Paytm has a liquidity of ₹9,182 crore, as per its last earnings report.

Paytm's buyback plan has been deeply criticised but proxy advisory firms and few market experts have said that the company should invest the money in business and attain profitability first. Proxy advisory firm IiAS has said the share buyback plan is a return of equity capital to its shareholders as the company has been reporting cash losses every year.

72 board level posts vacant in public sector cos

Government says it doesn't have details of total vacant positions in public sector units

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

AMID concerns over shrinking job opportunities in public sector units (PSUs) and overall unemployment rates, the government on Tuesday said nearly 72 board level positions are currently lying vacant or under process to fill up in PSUs.

The government also said that it doesn't have the details of total vacant posts in PSUs.

Minister of State (MoS) for Finance Dr Bhagwat Kishanrao Karao in a written reply to a question in Rajya Sabha, however, said that efforts are being made to ensure that the board level posts don't remain vacant for long. "As per the information provided by Public Enterprises Selection Board (PESB) as on December 8, 2022, 72 posts of CMDs/MDs/whole-time directors of central public sector enterprises (CPSEs) are vacant where selection process is underway," said the minister Right now, there are 248 operating CPSEs with a total on-roll employment of 8.41 lakh.

The minister added that CPSEs' function under the administrative control of different ministries or departments and recruitment to posts below the Board level is done by the management of respective CPSEs. "For smooth functioning of the organisation any vacant board level post is put under additional charge of another serving officer," said the minister.

India's largest crude oil and gas company ONGC (Oil and Natural Gas Corporation) didn't have a full-time chief since March 2021. The company, which accounts for 71% of domestic oil production, recently recruited former BPCL (Bharat Petroleum Corporation of India) chief Arun Kumar Singh as the new Chairman and managing director. The post of director, HR in Bharat Petroleum Corporation Limited (BPCL) has been vacant since January 2022.

Vedanta inks MoU with 30 Japanese firms for making semiconductor

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

VEDANTA GROUP has signed Memoranda of Understanding (MoU) with 30 Japanese technology companies for developing semiconductor and glass display manufacturing ecosystem.

The MoU was signed at the Vedanta-Avanstrate Business Partners Summit 2022 held last week at Tokyo, Japan, and was attended by more than 200 delegates from over 100 global companies. "We are committed to making India a hub for electronics manufacturing. Vedanta is focussed on taking lead in creating the electronics industry ecosystem rather than just technology transfers. We are excited as this comprehensive plan has potential to generate business opportunities of over $40 billion for our partners in the coming years," Akarsh K Hebbar, global MD, display and semiconductor business, Vedanta.

Earlier this year, Vedanta and Foxconn announced MoUs with the Government of Gujarat for setting up a semiconductor fab unit, a display fab unit, a semiconductor assembling and a testing unit in the state. The project envisaging total investment of $20 billion with employment potential of over 100,000 people aims to provide affordable electronics for domestic market and is attracting global players across the value chain entailing manufacturers of highly sophisticated and sensitive equipment, materials (high purity gases, chemicals, wafers, photomasks), equipment service providers etc. Vedanta Ltd, an arm of Vedanta Resources, is one of the world's leading oil and gas and metals companies with operations in oil and gas, zinc, lead, silver, copper, iron ore, steel and aluminium, and power across India, South Africa and Namibia. It will look at creating a hub to manufacture Apple's iPhones and TV equipment, along with possibly diving into the electric vehicle sector. In December 2021, India announced a ₹76,000 PLI scheme for semiconductor ecosystem. Since then many companies have shown interest in the semiconductor PLI scheme.

BOK MEMBERS CALLED FOR CLOSER WATCH ON MKT STRESS

Most of the Bank of Korea's policy board members called for closer attention toward signs of stress in local financial markets while agreeing to a rate hike at their November meeting, minutes showed on Tuesday. The Bank of Korea's (BOK) monetary policy board unanimously raised its benchmark policy rate by 25 bps to 3.25% at the November, 24 meeting, the highest since 2012, after delivering a half-percentage point hike in October. One of the six members cited in the minutes called for a pause in the tightening cycle, which started in August last year, given growing instability in local markets and in order to evaluate the effect of past rate hikes aimed at curbing inflation. "In the future, we need to check the effect from past monetary policy decisions and monitor how internal and external factors of uncertainty play out before deciding the speed of further policy tightening cautiously," the member said. The minutes do not identify speakers and do not include comments by Governor Rhee Chang-yong, who had already spoken at a news conference soon after the meeting. Other members were divided over how much attention the Bank of Korea should continue to place on fighting inflation, but most of them agreed instability in financial markers deserved a closer watch after months of tightening.

CHINA

CHINESE LEADERS TO SIGNAL MORE STIMULUS FOR 2023

When China's leaders gather this month to set next year's economic agenda, they will likely map out more stimulus steps, eager to underpin growth and to ease disruptions caused by a sudden end to COVID-19 curbs, policy insiders and analysts said. In three days of closed-door sessions at the annual Central Economic Work Conference, President Xi Jinping and other top officials are expected to discuss keenly anticipated growth targets, expanded fiscal spending on infrastructure and other programs, and the potential for more monetary easing. They face a daunting challenge: The recent relaxation of China's harsh COVID-related restrictions are ushering in a surge of infections, complicated by inconsistent messaging and a fragile healthcare system. That surge has already hit Beijing, where the start of the conference itself was delayed due to a sudden wave of COVID infections, Bloomberg News reported on Tuesday.

TAIWAN

CENTRAL BANK LIKELY TO ANNOUNCE ANOTHER RATE HIKE

Taiwan's central bank is expected to raise its policy rate again this week at the same mild pace as before, according to economists polled by Reuters, but as exports and inflation slow it may hold that rate steady next year to support the economy. The central bank is likely to lift the benchmark discount rate by 12.5 bps to 1.75% at its quarterly meeting on Thursday, according to the median forecast of 23 economists surveyed. At the last meeting, in September, the bank also raised it by 12.5 bps to 1.625%. Looking ahead, the median forecast for those polled was for the central bank to keep the rate at 1.75% for all of 2023. The central bank has repeatedly said it will tighten monetary policy this year, in line with counterparts elsewhere, with inflation a key decider. Taking lawmaker questions on Monday, central bank governor Yang Chin-long said the focus of this week's meeting would be "relatively simple" - inflation, and the domestic impact on what is happening with global economic growth. Taiwan's inflation, never as bad lately as it has been in the United States and Europe, has been slowing since August. Its consumer price index was 2.35% higher in November than a year earlier, the lowest inflation reading in nine months.

Reliance Capital base price for e-auction raised to ₹6,500 crore

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

THE insolvency resolution process of Reliance Capital has taken another twist as the lenders now increasing the base price for the e-auction from ₹5,231 crore to ₹6,500 crore.

Sources close to development told this newspaper that the move by the lenders have left the bidders in shock and put a question mark on the success of the e-auction process.

The auction will now take place on December 22 and December 23, instead of an earlier proposal of holding it on December 19.

As per the earlier proposal, the bid value of ₹5,231 crore quoted by the Cosmea and Piramal consortium was to be the base value or starting price for the proposed e-auction. However, the committee of creditors (CoC) in a meeting on Tuesday raised the base price to ₹6,500 crore. Bidders left in the race for Reliance Capital now consider the new base price as unrealistic. As per the rules laid down for the e-auction, the bidders will have to raise bid value by minimum ₹1,000 crore each in the first and the second round. This means the first bid has to be minimum ₹7,500 crore and second ₹8,500 crore. Subsequently, in the third and fourth rounds, the bid amount has to go up by ₹500 crore and ₹250 crore, respectively.

Reliance Capital has received four binding bids on November 28, which was the last date for submitting bids.

The highest bid of ₹5,231 crore has been submitted by a consortium of Cosmea Financial and Piramal. Hindujas with ₹5,060 crore has emerged as the second-highest bidder, followed by Torrent Group (₹4,500 crore) and Oaktree (₹4,200 crore).

Sensex, Nifty surge led by gains in IT, banking stocks

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

SENSEX and Nifty inched higher on Tuesday, led by gains in IT and banking stocks after the country's retail inflation for November eased below RBI's upper tolerance limit of 6%.

The BSE Sensex surged 402.73 points or 0.65% to end at 62,533.30 while the Nifty 50 climbed 110.85 points or 0.60% to settle at 18,608. Headline CPI inflation for November decelerated to 5.9% year-on-year from 6.8% in October. This was below the wide consensus of 6.4%. A fall in inflation rate may propel the central bank to go slow on future repo rate hikes, thus making lending easier. The surge also comes on the back of positive movement seen in the global equity market ahead of the US retail inflation data and the US Fed's Federal Open Market Committee meeting that would decide on future rate hikes. Later in the day, the US reported that its CPI inflation surged 7.1% in November from a year-ago period but down from 7.7% in October. The US equity market welcomed this update as stock futures jumped over 3%.

Shrikant Chouhan, head of equity research (retail), Kotak Securities, said, "Markets were on a firm footing on the back of short covering as retail inflation easing to 11-month low raised hopes that the rate hike regime could slow down and take a pause, going ahead."

India could see 100 large-scale profitable start-ups in five years

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

INDIA may see over 100 matured and large-scale profitable or path-to profitability start-ups in the next five years, says a report by Redseer Strategy Consultants.

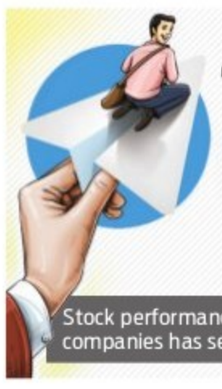
While about 20 of them have already been listed, 80 start-ups have the potential to look at an IPO journey, it says. Rohan Agarwal, Partner, Redseer Strategy Consultants, said, "There must be a deliberate and goal-based approach to be IPO ready."

The report adds that the country has significant room for growth in public market cap compared to other countries.

From about $43 trillion market capitalization in the US, about 25% can be attributed to tech/new-age companies, and this includes Apple, Amazon etc. In India, with about a $3.9 trillion market capitalization, only about 1% can be attributed to tech/new-age companies. "We are just getting started with the journey of start-ups coming up and going towards their path to profitability, then looking at that public market journey," the report said. The stock performance of tech IPOs compared to other consumer companies has seen a steeper crash. The big reason behind this is the global macro situation, as profits are a lot more valuable in the current situation. Moreover, tech companies have now prioritised growth, it added.

A typical company that would be cash flow positive two years from now would see discounting of at least 20-30% of their valuations in a low-interest rate situation, which goes up significantly in a high-interest rate situation which are being seen at present.

"When we look at similar situations in the past 20-odd years, we realise that it still takes a bit of time for markets to come back sustainably, even after the interest rates start dropping. Because, in effect, the market rates would have already factored in the decreasing interest rates into the prices. The learning is that there may be more time, maybe a few quarters, for the markets to recover. We always see IPOs bouncing back post downturns," said Rohan Agarwal.



START-UP JOURNEY
About 20 start-ups have already been listed
80 start-ups have potential to look at an IPO journey, according to a report
In India, only about 1% of market capitalization can be attributed to tech/new-age firms
Stock performance of tech IPOs compared to other consumer companies has seen a steeper crash

SAFE ROADS: MBRDI ENVISIONS AN ACCIDENT-FREE FUTURE

HRITHIK KIRAN BAGADE @ Bengaluru

TO enhance road safety and redefine mobility, Mercedes-Benz Research and Development India (MBRDI) hosted the third edition of its Safe Roads India Summit in Bengaluru on Tuesday.

This edition is themed 'Leading Safety with Sustainability at the Core', and accordingly, in line with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals, the German auto giant recently announced 'Vision Zero 2050' to achieve accident-free driving globally by then.

Road safety is of critical importance to India, where 1.5 lakh people die in road accidents every year, according to some estimates.

On trends surrounding road safety in India, MBRDI MD and CEO Manu Saale said, "There is a lot of discussion around mandating safety as a philosophy, which can be translated into wearing seatbelts front and back, having a minimum set of air bags required in a car, etc. If you look at a vehicle as an object, you look at mandating certain things in a regulatory perspective, making sure of the minimum levels of safety from every road user... The other aspect is that this country desperately needs improved infrastructure, especially in cities and towns... Lastly, our main focus is the human element, and awareness is key to safe roads." In recent times, the company's research was expanded to include some locations in India to make accident-free driving a reality across all markets. However, the effectiveness of safety systems can be compromised if road users do not comply with traffic rules or don't use safety systems onboard their vehicles.

MBRDI MD and CEO Manu Saale addresses the media after the unveiling of Mercedes-Benz Vision EQXX, in Bengaluru on Tuesday | HRITHIK KIRAN BAGADE

"We launched Safe Roads to create awareness about the significance of road safety, and share best practices with future road users to reduce India's alarmingly high road accident fatality rate," he said.

Conceptualised in 2015, Safe Roads promotes road safety through physical demonstrations, visual aids and research reports through road shows. The Safe Roads India Summit was launched in 2017.

Meanwhile, the Mercedes-Benz Vision EQXX, considered the most-efficient EV, was unveiled for the first time in India during the summit. This research prototype boasts of exceeding 1,000 km of real-world electric driving on one charge.

"MBRDI has contributed extensively in developing Vision EQXX. In line with the plan to go all-electric by 2030 and achieving Vision Zero by 2050, our engineers are playing a major role in the development of the electric architecture and innovating for the future of safe, sustainable, and smart mobility," Saale said.

DO OR DIE

AGGRESSIVE FRANCE MEET MOROCCAN WALL

DEFENDING CHAMPIONS FRANCE BEGIN FAVOURITES BUT MOROCCO HAVE PROVED TO BE VERY TOUGH NUT TO CRACK. A LOOK...

FRANCE

Edged out England in a game where the holders were second best. But that's the beast of tournament football and France have mastered the art of doing just enough for so long. With two of their most important players bang in form – Kylian Mbappe and Olivier Giroud have scored nine between them – you fancy them to be the ones to breach this Moroccan wall.

MOROCCO

They have been here before and people have written them off before. But one suspects this is a challenge that even their streak may struggle against. They are yet to concede to an opposition but the caveat is the identity of their defensive personnel. Several of the first-choice defenders that began the World Cup are out with injuries.

Achraf Hakimi vs Kylian Mbappe

Each knows the other like the back of their own hand thanks them being teammates at club level (PSG). Hakimi likes to attack but he has restrained because of the team style. He will have to do the same against Mbappe, who was shackled against England. The Atlas Lions will look to deny him space to run behind while also cutting out the inside channel.

Sofyan Amrabat vs Antoine Griezmann

The defensive midfielder has been one of the stars of the World Cup. The way he has won back possession, recycled said possession and generally protected the back four will also earn him a nomination in the team of the tournament. He will look to do the same against the attacking midfielder, one of the unsung stars of the World Cup.

Hakim Ziyech vs Theo Hernandez

England's Bukayo Saka showed it was not just possible to get at France but to have Theo on toast. Ziyech, who has registered the highest number of pressures this World Cup, will look to the do same. He's an important attacking player for the Africans and will look to go both ways to take advantage of Theo's weakness while defending his space.

We bought the rest of unsold tickets in the stadium and we distributed them to our fans. They are here in Qatar and they have only one desire ' to see the national team – Fouzi Lekjaa, Moroccan federation president

Moroccan 'dream' faces reality check

STEVE DOUGLAS @Doha

MOROCCO'S improbable, history-making run at the World Cup is about to get its ultimate test.

Africa's first World Cup semifinalist is playing defending champion France and its star striker Kylian Mbappe, the leader of a new wave of football superstars coming out of an era dominated by Lionel Messi and Cristiano Ronaldo. Wednesday's match has cultural and political connotations — Morocco was under French rule from 1912-1956 — and the outcome is far from the foregone conclusion many would presume by looking at the names of the players and the rankings of the teams.

Morocco has exceeded all expectations in Qatar by beating second-ranked Belgium in the group stage and then eliminating European powerhouses Spain and Portugal in the knockout phase to reach the semifinals. No African or Arab nation has ever gotten this far.

It is one of the biggest stories in the World Cup's 92-year history and Morocco is not done yet. "I was asked if we can win the World Cup and I said, 'Why not? We can dream, it doesn't cost you anything to have dreams,'" said Walid Regragui, Morocco's French-born coach. "European countries are used to winning the World Cup and we have played top sides, we have not had an easy run. Anyone playing us is going to be afraid of us now."

Even France?

The defending champions have just passed their own big test by coming through a tough quarterfinal match against England, on a rare occasion when Mbappe was kept quiet.

No player has scored more than his five goals and it won't be easy for Mbappe to add to that tally against Morocco, which has yet to concede a goal to an opposition player at this World Cup — or indeed in its nine games since Regragui was hired in August. The only goal allowed was an own-goal by its defender, Nayef Aguerd, against Canada in the group stage.

Morocco might have some injuries now — Aguerd and fellow center back Romain Saiss could be missing Wednesday — but Regragui's game plan relies on team shape and discipline more than any specific individual.

"We recovered well. We have good doctors and every day we get good news. No one is ruled out and no one is for certain," Regragui told reporters on Tuesday. "We'll use the best team possible."

The Morocco coach said his team is ready to "change the mentality" of Africa, and he's told his players not to settle for anything less than the top prize. "We're going to fight to move on, for the African nations, for the Arab world," he said. Regragui said defender Achraf Hakimi is looking forward to a "nice duel" with Mbappe, his teammate at Paris Saint-Germain, but added that France doesn't just depend on its star player.

"Well have to block Kylian, but not just him. Hakimi is super motivated to beat his friend," he said. The key to winning the game, he said, will be Morocco's "team spirit" and the support of the crowd at Al Bayt Stadium, where French President Emmanuel Macron is set to be in attendance along with tens of thousands of green-and-red-clad Morocco fans. It will feel like a home game for Morocco's players, which might level things up even more.

"We have the best fans in the world along with Argentines and Brazilians. They're people who come from anywhere in the world to support their country," Regragui said. AP

NUGGETS & TRIVIA

England's Harry Kane won the Golden Boot during the 2018 World Cup scoring six goals. In 2022, he became England's all time joint top scorer after striking against France in the quarterfinals.

The oldest player to represent the french national team in the 2022 World Cup is Steve Mandanda. He is 37 years and 247 days old.

Brazil are the only country to have appeared in every World Cup finals. They have featured in all 22 editions from 1930 to 2022.

IN THE MIDDLE OF FRENCH ART

Rejected by country's clubs for being too small, the midfielder is leading France at the World Cup

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Chennai

BAYONNE is a city in Southwestern France. When Antoine Griezmann was a child, he used to study there. After school, he would get on a vehicle, travel west to San Sebastian, a resort town in Spain (Griezmann was a youth product at Real Sociedad). It's not like he had willingly decided on this routine to be in two countries every other day. As a kid, he had applied to a lot of famous teams in France. All sides, including Lyon, his boyhood club, rejected him. The clubs were of the opinion that he was too slight.

While playing a trial game for Montpellier, he caught the attention of Eric Olhats, a scout for La Real. Even as all French clubs turned their noses up at Griezmann for a perceived lack of physicality, Olhats saw something else. His technical ability. There was a meeting between Olhats and the Griezmanns. The kid decided to shift to a border town — Bayonne — to keep his dream alive of becoming a professional footballer. For four years till he completed his schooling, Griezmann studied in France in the morning before training in Spain in the afternoon. "I was his father, his mother, his grandmother and his coach," Olhats had once told the42.ie while reflecting on their relationship.

After signing a first professional contract with Sociedad, he helped them win promotion to La Liga. He hit the ground running in Spain's top-tier and it wasn't long before France started paying attention to this kid. After considering the situation (he qualified to play for Portugal too), he declared for the country of his birth. Eight years on from his debut for Les Bleus, he's perhaps one of the most important players for France. Kylian Mbappe maybe the Rolls Royce of this side but Griezmann is the fuel that allows the Rolls Royce to do its thing. He's so important for manager Didier Deschamps that he has never considered leaving him out for the better part of the last six years. Mbappe has come in, Olivier Giroud has gone in and out, Karim Benzema has been reintegrated into the squad while the likes of Ousmane Dembele, Kingsley Coman and Dimitri Payet are or were important reference points in attack.

Griezmann has seen all of them come and go while maintaining a spot in the line-up. That quarterfinal against England saw him make a 72nd consecutive appearance for France. It's a record that's unlikely to be matched any time soon. That match also showed why a) Griezmann is very important to this setup, and b) his in-game intelligence.

When he first came into the national side during his La Real days, Deschamps had the tendency to field him as a second striker, either with Benzema or Olivier Giroud. At other times, Deschamps also deployed him as a wide forward on the left or up front. As a second striker behind Giroud, Griezmann won the Golden Boot at the 2016 Euros with six goals. The emergence of Mbappe meant he played a slightly different role in 2018 but that did not stop him from influencing the way France attacked. Along with Harry Kane, he topped the chart for most goals and assists with six (four goals and two). He starred in that final with a goal, an assist and a pre-assist.

Now, his role is not to get into goal-scoring positions. Not in this team that's devoid of Paul Pogba anyway. Instead, it is to link the scratch midfield pair of Aurelien Tchouameni and Adrien Rabiot with Mbappe and Giroud. So, Griezmann's remit, in Qatar, was to be an advanced playmaker. To be an 8. He did just that by teeing up Tchouameni for his opening goal and crossing from the left for Giroud's winner in the England game. It's that in-game intelligence that allowed him to pick-up those positions. It's not something that he has picked up overnight, though. Those two assists meant he had gone past both Zinedine Zidane as well as Thierry Henry to become Les Bleus's all-time leading assister with 28 (Henry & Zidane had 26 each).

A few days before the England game, he explained about his new role to reporters. "I am pretty free in how I link up with defence and attack," he had said. "When we are defending, I have to help out my team-mates. When we have the ball, I have to try to play it as well as I can. It gives me more choice. Physically, I feel great, and when I am feeling good my head is a lot better too."

His performances at the World Cup is all the more remarkable when you consider the way his club career has gone since his move to Barcelona from Atletico. The Catalans made him one of the most expensive signings of all time in 2019 but little has gone right for him at the club. When he joined Barcelona, it was already in a state of decay. He was loaned back to Atletico last year as Barcelona woke up to the full extent of their financial difficulties. With Atletico struggling to rediscover their mojo, this second innings has not been a pleasurable experience for the Frenchman.

For France, it's been a different story. He's now three hours away from winning back-to-back World Cups. If you had told that to a 13-year-old kid who was being rejected for being too small, he would have laughed it off. At 31, though, he's smiling. Content. Being in his happy place. In a Les Bleus jersey.

Messi 'fool' taunt spawns mugs, T-shirts

BUENOS AIRES: "What are you looking at, fool? Get lost!" Lionel Messi's taunt of Dutch player Wout Weghorst has delighted Argentina, where the phrase has made its way onto mugs, shirts & other products. In a viral video online, Messi is shown being interviewed after the quarterfinal with the Netherlands, when his eyes drift off camera. He then launches his words in the direction of Weghorst — whose 2 late goals pushed the game into penalties. Businesses wasted no time plastering the slogan on a variety of products, with mugs selling for 1,600 pesos ($9), T-shirts for 2,900 pesos, & caps for 3,900 pesos.

US seizes 55 websites

WASHINGTON: Fifty-five websites have been seized for illegally live-streaming matches from the WC in Qatar, the US Justice Department said. The websites were shut down after a FIFA representative identified sites being used to distribute copyright-infringing content without the authorization of the soccer world governing body, the department said in a statement.

Atlas Lions win Africa support in WC clash with Les Bleus

AGENCIES @Tunis

HIS country is in diplomatic crisis with Morocco, but that's not stopping Tunisian Wissam Sultani supporting the first ever Arab or African team to reach a football World Cup semi-final. "There's no politics on the pitch. Supporting an Arab country, whichever one, is a duty when it gets to this stage of a tournament," said Sultani, a 41-year-old greengrocer in Tunis, capital of the North African nation.

"Football brings people together, but politics divides them."

Morocco's "Lions of the Atlas", who beat Portugal on Saturday to reach the final four, will face former colonial power France on Wednesday. They will have the backing of many fans across Africa and the Arab world.

Three African teams — Cameroon, Ghana and Senegal — have made it to the quarter-finals since 1990, but Morocco is the first ever to reach the semis. Sultani is one of many Tunisians supporting the team — with little regard for a diplomatic stand-off between their two governments over the disputed Western Sahara territory.

Morocco withdrew its ambassador from Tunis in August after Tunisian President Kais Saied welcomed the head of the Polisario Front, which seeks independence for the Western Sahara.

Morocco, which called Saied's act "hostile", sees the mineral-rich desert region as a sovereign part of its own territory.

"Political problems end when the match starts," said Tunis lemon merchant Hamza Ayari, aged 35. "What's important is to see the Arab team win".

In a nearby Tunis street, a sports shop plays Moroccan folk songs to attract customers, and the red jersey of the Moroccan team is the highlight of the display.

Even in the kingdom's arch-rival Algeria — which failed to qualify for the tournament — many have celebrated the Moroccan wins. Official media has remained silent, but the private press has heaped praise on the team.

"The Atlas Lions were able to count on an iron defence to reach the last four. Solidity and efficiency, the ingredients for success," Algeria's Reporters newspaper wrote.

Algiers public servant Salim, 45, said Moroccans and Algerians "ignore political differences" between their governments.

"The Algerians are with the Moroccan team", he said, noting both North African nations were home to the Berber people.

Tunisian sociologist Mohamed Jouili said the support for Morocco across North Africa was partly due to a shared history of French colonialism. "The countries of this region can't compete with France economically, militarily or geopolitically," Jouili said.

In Senegal, Rabat is often accused of abuses against African migrants who travel north through Morocco on the way to Europe.

But Senegalese President Macky Sall — who also heads the African Union — hailed the team's "historic" qualification for the semi-final. Civil society figure Alioune Tine also urged Senegalese to support the team and hang out Moroccan flags. "Bringing the World Cup to Africa is now close to reality," he wrote on Twitter.

Smith claims rats chewed up his Baggy Green

Australia batter Steve Smith cleared the air over the frayed Baggy Green he wore during the Test series against the West Indies, saying it was the handiwork of rats. "I left it overnight in the change room in Galle, Sri Lanka like I do everywhere and turned up next day and rats had got to it I think," Smith was quoted as saying by The Australian.

Test for India & bowlers

With another WTC final at stake, visitors begin a six-match two-series cycle seeking to rediscover mojo with the ball

GOMESH S @ Chennai

India's R Ashwin takes a catch during a training session on Tuesday | AFP

EARLY exits in the 2021 T20 World Cup and 2022 Asia Cup. Did not make the final of the 2022 T20 World Cup. It is no secret that there are questions over India's approach to white-ball cricket. That said, the indisputable fact is that when it comes to the longer format, no team has been as successful as India. At least not since 2016. That they have the best win-loss ratio of 2.411 (0.73 more than the next team in the list) is a testament to that.

While there have been some prolific batting performers, winning Test matches and series comes down to taking 20 wickets. In the last six years, it is something the Indian team have excelled at. Five bowlers have taken over 100 wickets in this period and the sixth — R Ashwin — tops the list with 266 scalps. India's rise to the top in Test cricket in this period is no coincidence. In fact, it is the direct result of the combination of India's bowling bullying most batting orders, with India's batters stepping up from time to time. That said, 2022 hasn't been the same. Since the start of this year, they have not taken 20 wickets in an overseas Test. Whether South Africa or England, the maximum they have been able to take is 13 in a match. And some poor phases of play from the batters meant they have lost all three overseas Tests this year. Now, Bangladesh conditions are not alien to India. And without a doubt, Ashwin and Axar Patel who are expected to do well. However, thanks to injuries and transition, they do not have their prolific pace attack at full strength. Mohammed Shami and Jasprit Bumrah are injured. Which brings the focus on Umesh Yadav and Mohammed Siraj, especially the former. So much so that bowling coach Paras Mhambrey called him the spearhead of the pace attack, and rightly so.

Since the start of 2016, no pacer has thrived in subcontinental conditions as much as Umesh. With 75 wickets in 23 Tests, he has been the best pacer on Asian surfaces. With the second and third names on the leaderboard — Shami and Ishant Sharma — not available, he will have to lead the pace attack and take Siraj along. "In terms of combination, a lot is expected of Umesh, but it is a great opportunity for Siraj," Mhambrey added on Tuesday.

Yes, Indian batters will face their own challenge in countering spin and putting a big total. But as it has been the case for the better part of a decade, it is the bowlers who have consistently put India in a winning position. They did the heavy lifting in taking India to the final of the inaugural World Test Championship. This series is going to be no different and they would be hoping that they get back to the habit of taking 20 wickets. For there is another WTC final at stake.

POINTS TO PONDER

India take on Bangladesh in the first Test at Chattogram on Wednesday. A look...

TIME FOR 73rd?

Virat Kohli's three-year-long century drought began after the Test series against Bangladesh in 2019. In the last few months, he has ended it, scoring centuries in T20Is and ODIs. Now, Kohli has a chance to finish the year on a high with a Test hundred — against the same opponents of his previous century in the format. Can he do that in the first Test?

EYES ON RISHABH

There have been questions over Rishabh Pant's place in the T20I format and rightly so, for he has not done much in white-ball cricket. However, the wicket-keeper batter has been a revelation of sorts in the last three years in the longest format of the game. The team management believes he will stick to his method and execute it as well as he has so far.

SPIN TO WIN FOR HOSTS?

There is no doubt that Mehidy Hasan and Shakib Al Hasan will hold key for Bangladesh. And the Indian top-order's record against spin is not one to boast of. That said, if the surfaces are anything like the ODIs, one could expect Ebadot Hossain and Khaled Ahmed to have a bigger role to play. And the spin duo will need all the help from the pacers up top to do the early damage.

India women look to take lead in third T20I

Tanmay ton puts Hyd in control

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @ Chennai

TANMAY Agarwal's patient century (116 batting) and a valuable 72 by Ravi Teja enabled Hyderabad to post 256 for 5 in 70.4 overs against Tamil Nadu on the opening day of the Ranji Trophy game played at Rajiv Gandhi international stadium, Hyderabad. The duo added 141 runs for the fifth wicket and bailed out Hyderabad who were at one stage reeling at 46/4.

Tanmay played a captain's innings and fought hard in overcast conditions. When wickets were falling at one end, he held fort and as Ravi Teja joined him, he opened up and scored his ninth first-class hundred.

"He (Agarwal) played superbly. Played with a lot of purpose. He knew the conditions well and thus could play the way he did today. We will certainly look to get him out as early as possible tomorrow," said M Venkataramana, head coach of Tamil Nadu.

Ravi Teja played positively from the word go and played a major role in the partnership for the fifth wicket. The Hyderabad duo scored fluently against the TN pace attack of Sandeep, Vignesh, Aswin Crist and spinners Sai Kishore and B Aparajith. Ravi Teja's positive attitude made Tanmay too play more shots and runs started to come regularly.

"By the time Ravi Teja joined Tanmay, the wicket had slowed down a bit. Ravi's positive attitude in fact helped Tanmay play more fluently. The wicket slowing down at that stage was the main reason for their partnership. We tried our best to break the stand, but could not do much as the surface did not help," opined Venkataramana.

That said, The Tamil Nadu medium pacers showed what they are capable of at the start of the season. After calling the coin right, B Indrajith asked Hyderabad to bat. The TN new ball pair of L Vignesh and Sandeep Warrier bowled with a lot of fire and zest. Warrier was unplayable as he extracted good bounce from the deck. Hyderabad opener Abhirath Reddy took several body blows from Warrier before losing his stumps to the Kerala-born player. Vignesh removed Rohit Rayudu as the pacers were competing with each other in castling the timber. T Thyagarajan showed some pluck and tried to defy the visitors' attack for a while, but once again, Sandeep Warrier struck to put TN on the front foot.

"It was truly a brilliant show by both Warrier and Vignesh. They bowled with lively pace and exploited the conditions well. Warrier was almost unplayable in the morning, he hit the deck in the right areas and extracted good bounce. Vignesh too got the angles right and bowled tightly. We need to bowl well tomorrow and get them all out as quickly as possible," said Venkataramana.

Sai Sudarshan and R Kavin made their debut for Tamil Nadu. Play ended earlier that the scheduled time due to bad light.

'FINE' PLAN

After the recent case of a couple being fined for walking at night in the city, Bengalureans share their thoughts on the city's nightlife, and their concerns post such incidents

A few days ago on a seemingly normal Bengaluru night, Karthik Patri and his wife were hastily approached by two policemen and asked to pay a fine of ₹1,000 for walking on the street after 11pm. The couple, at first, was taken aback and then realised the gravity of the situation as things started to go south. The demands of the police officers were absurd and more importantly, unlawful. The two policemen from the Sampigehalli Police Station have been suspended after Patri took to Twitter to share the experience. While this case can be seen as one that got justice, it has brought up a graver question in the back of everyone's minds. Is Bengaluru safe at night? CE speaks to citizens to find out if there has been a pattern of similar incidents.

PICTURE FOR REPRESENTATION PURPOSE ONLY

VENKAT RAMAN, college student

I have faced two such instances. The first happened around July this year. I was walking in and around my own locality (B K Circle) at around 1.30am when a policeman pulled up near me and started grilling me with questions about what I was doing and why I was out at night. He then took my phone and started checking. Eventually, I had to call my brother to prove that I in fact lived in the area. Before he let me go, he threatened me saying that if I was not home by 10pm every day, and if he sees me the next time, he would definitely take some action.

SIDDHANT CHATURVEDI, edtech professional

I have been living in the city for the past two years and one day, I was hanging out with my office colleague at around 11pm, when the police randomly came on the bike and started questioning us. They asked for ID proof, took photographs of it saying they were searching for a suspect in a case, and asked us to go home. But in my experience, this has been an isolated incident. The city doesn't have much of a nightlife as most clubs shut fairly early and the police safely patrol at night.

RISHABH HARJANI, jewellery store owner

I feel there must be a deeper reason as to why that couple was arrested that night. I don't think they were just walking. I mean, I walk at night quite often at very odd hours with other people and have never been in such a situation. Bengaluru is a super chilled-out city. In my experience, the cops in our city have been pretty relaxed.

KEVIN KUNJUMON, IT professional

Once, I was returning to my place with my brother on my bike when police officers showed up behind us on their bike and started honking at us so that we could stop. I did not understand it as I was wearing a helmet and following all the rules. This was at 9pm and not on the main road. As soon as we got off the bike, they started patting my entire body. They took my phone and wallet without even asking me. They demanded that I open my phone and my gallery. They weren't even asking anything, they were just doing everything on their own. Eventually they let us go.

POOJA SHARMA, fitness influencer

I have never faced anything in Bengaluru. I have always felt this is the safest city to be in. When I am on the road all alone, I have never undergone any sketchy situation. I was very surprised when I found out what happened to that couple because it was such a huge contrast to the events in my life. Maybe there are more instances like this, in that case, it is good that they are getting attention. In my experience, I have never been scared of going out at night in Bengaluru. I feel very safe here.

STEPS

- Start in Vajrasana (Thunderbolt Pose). Stay here for about 3-4 breaths, slowly putting pressure on the ankles with your body weight.

- Gently move the big toes close to each other, and place the knees comfortably on the floor.
- Place the hands on the knees and try to sit up tall as you inhale. When comfortable, lengthen the spine from the base, and broaden the chest, creating space in the front torso.
- Evenly distribute the weight around the hips, core, back and shoulders, not just on ankles and knees. As you inhale, lengthen the spine, as you exhale, ground the sit bones and knees.
- Remain for about 3-4 breaths, initially, and then gradually hold the posture for about 6-8 breaths.
- To release, take a deep breath, and gently come back to Vajrasana.
- As a counter pose, come to Adho Mukha Svanasana. Stay here for about 3-4 breaths.

The Architect of the New BJP: How Narendra Modi Transformed the Party

Author name: Ajay Singh

Publisher: Penguin Random House

Prise: ₹599

In conversation with Ajay Singh, press secretary to the President, on his new national bestseller The Architect of the New BJP – How Narendra Modi Transformed the Party

S NEERAJ KRISHNA

Bobby McFerrin's Don't Worry, Be Happy would be the last thing one expects to pop up while initiating a conversation with the press secretary to the President of India. That, too, when the subject of discussion is Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

But Ajay Singh, who joined Rashtrapati Bhavan in 2019, probes this correspondent's caller tune. The tiger doesn't change its stripes, they say. An ace journalist, his observations are sharp, and diction measured. "Zabardast hain," he remarks on the 1988 Grammy winning track.

It is with similar attention to detail that Singh has approached his new book The Architect of the New BJP - How Narendra Modi Transformed the Party. With pithy prose and anecdotes, Singh dissects the layers of the monolith that Modi has evolved into.

"I undertook this study after reading a classic book by an American political scientist, Myron Weiner, who wrote in detail about the organisation building of the Congress after India attained independence," says Singh. "That book motivated me to undertake a similar study of the BJP, and the role of Modi as a central figure. I have explored his organisational capabilities, his innovative methods – conventional and unconventional – to understand the phenomenal expansion of the BJP."

Singh, however, stays off hyperbole and eulogy in his book. As American political analyst Walter Andersen notes in the foreword: "Unlike so many studies of Modi, this is not a book that relies almost exclusively on news reports and quotes that appear in the press. Nor does it have an agenda aimed primarily at condemning or praising."

And, the result is a classic study for anyone keen on fathoming the 'Modi effect' on the BJP as well as the political landscape of 'New India' on the whole. Singh terms it 'one of India's most exciting political journeys'. "I have focussed exclusively on building up the organisational network of the BJP, and the methods employed in it," says Singh.

"I have deliberately confined my study to Modi's organisational abilities and subsequent expansion in areas considered inaccessible to the BJP – such as eastern India, the northeast and parts of southern India."

From extensive interviews, reminiscence and his old reporter's diary, Singh gleans momentous events in the epoch-making saga of an RSS pracharak evolving into, arguably, one of the most popular political leaders on earth today. "My own experience as a reporter who covered the events that led to the present political situation was also helpful in narrating this story," he notes.

Here is a gem from Modi's RSS-to-BJP 'transition' days in 1986. It is on a yatra, much ahead of the Ayodhya Rath Yatra and the Ekta Yatra from Kanyakumari to Kashmir, which established Modi as a master 'organiser'.

Gujarat was politically charged, with communal tensions on rise. The Ahmedabad civic election – a prestige battle – was slated for 1987. It would be Modi's 'first test' as a party general secretary (organisation).

In 1986, the Congress-led state government banned the city's famed Jagannath Yatra citing 'security reasons'. It was seen as an 'affront to the Hindus and their religious traditions', and the government was accused of being 'bent upon pandering to the Muslims', recalls Singh.

The Sangh Parivar threw its weight behind the yatra. And on D-Day, Modi, the man in charge, pulled off a masterstroke.

"In the morning, the Jagannath temple resembled a police camp, and one of the elephants – they are housed in the temple complex round the year and lead the annual procession – surprised all as it led the charge and broke open the barrier. Within a minute, all police arrangements were thrown out of gear, and before anyone could realise what was happening the Rath Yatra had started," writes Singh.

He adds: "People of Ahmedabad still remember it as the 'Swayambhoo Yarta', a procession that proceeded on its own. But of course, it did not happen 'on its own', and the elephant did not plan to defy the government order. There was a meticulous strategy behind it all. And it was widely attributed to Modi, even if there was never a credible acknowledgement from him."

Similarly, while retracing Modi's travels to several states as a BJP general secretary, Singh highlights a vital mission to Madhya Pradesh (MP) ahead of the 1998 assembly election. He notes that Modi's 'emphasis on training for the cadre was so intense and focused that he soon acquired the nickname of 'headmaster' among state party veterans'. "I referred to that comment by some senior leaders in MP who had been subjected to a new drill of training and orientation by Modi," says Singh.

"Modi's view was that 'training is a science' that enhances the efficacy of the organisation. Since this drill was new and rigorous, and intended to induce discipline, it evoked curiosity initially. And that was the reason that Modi was called 'headmaster'. Later on, these drills proved to be effective in keeping the organisation focused and efficient."

Singh sidesteps my question on the perceived Sangh-BJP friction during the Vajpayee era, and Modi being the chosen one for a 10-year reset plan. "Various organisations affiliated with the RSS and having a symbiotic relationship with the BJP are working in closer coordination during Modi's time than Vajpayee's stint," he says.

"The management of contradictions within the Sangh Parivar is quite effective and fault lines are never exposed in public. This is a good sign for making the political party more efficient and focused."

In the book, Singh highlights a plethora of innovations by Modi the organiser, including the idea of inducting 'notables' into the BJP, something new to the party's old guard. "Keeping the sangathinist model of the party's organisation, Modi also borrowed the concept of 'notablisation' and inducted new faces to make the party popular," he says.

"In addition to this, he innovated a model of roping in influential people from different walks of life within the BJP's fold. These persons may not have a family background of notables, but they wielded enormous influence in the society. This has given fillip to the party's growth."

What about Modi's handling of the media? I prod the journalist in Singh. "The assumption that the press conference is the only method to reach out has become untenable with tech innovations," he says.

"The conventional modes of communications are becoming irrelevant when it comes to reaching out to masses. Modi has adapted to these tech changes and has been reaching out to people in a far more effective manner. It will be wrong to say that he is shunning the media. He has given interviews much more than any other prime minister in the past."

Though Singh avoids making any predictions in his book, he seems confident that Modi is a textbook for future leaders. "Of course, a leader of Modi's stature invariably sets a template for the future generation of leadership," he adds. "But every generation of leadership evolves in a unique manner and cannot be a replica of the past."

As we wrap up the interview, Singh reveals the theme of the next book in his mind. "I want to write about major events that had led to a huge impact, but are no more present in our collective memory. You could say, some uncomfortable memories that were erased by the political elites," Singh says.
